GOVERNMENT WATCHES FOR SOVIET MOVE

Prime Minister Mackenzie King Back in Saskatchewan Addresses Meeting at Moose Jaw

MR. STEWART NOT GIVING UP POST

Exchange of Ambassadors Between Britain and Russia Being Carefully Watched by Cabinet

MOOSE JAW, Nov. 19.—(Reuter's)—Turning to the Province of Saskatchewan today, Prime Minister Mackenzie King stopped for an hour in Moose Jaw, where he delivered a short address. He left shortly afterward for Regina.

The Prime Minister, during his swing around Western Canada, has been obtaining information with regard to the various sections he has visited and also enjoyed the advice of his colleagues most familiar in the provinces concerned. Hon. Dr. King accompanied the Premier in British Columbia. Hon. Charles Stewart, Alberta representative in the Cabinet, has been making a thorough tour of his province and spent yesterday with Mr. King. Hon. C. A. Dunning will meet the Premier's party at Regina tonight. In addition, Hon. J. L. Ralston has been with Mr. King almost throughout his Western trip. A chance remark was made at the meeting last night by Hon. Charles Stewart that he is political life of the future long or short he would always be proud of the accomplishments of the administration of which he formed a part. This was set out in some quarters as presaging the retirement of Mr. Stewart as a member of the Government. His friends, however, insist that no such prophecy was intended by Mr. Stewart.

SOVIET IN CANADA
The debate in the British House of Commons on the exchange of ambassadors between Great Britain and Russia is being closely watched in Canadian Cabinet circles. The renewal of diplomatic relations does not bring the Russian question to a head as far as Canada is concerned because this country has no

Another Shingle Plant Is Closed From Depression

BELLINGHAM, Nov. 19.—Further curtailment of the shingle industry has occurred in Northwest Washington, the Edison Shingle Company today announcing the closing of its plant at Edmonds, and the shutting down of the Whittaker Falls Mill Company has been operating on a five-day week basis and the Shims Lumber Company's shingle mill here is idle.

The News
Local and Provincial—Conservative members are assembling in city for caucus. Provincial Government's plans for immediate work on Columbia Highway will lessen seasonal unemployment.
Dominion, Imperial and Foreign—Australian politics in disrupted condition with the Nationalist Party split into groups. War veterans assembling at Regina for annual convention. Commander of German submarine greeted with cheers by British audience but mother of dead boys protests.

Mr. Herbert Smith Resigns Office of Miners' President

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Mr. Herbert Smith today resigned as president of the Miners' Federation, reportedly because of dissent with the decision of the executive committee to recommend acceptance of the Government proposals for the coal industry, comprising the question of length of the working day.

JURY FINDS DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL

Mr. Louis Godtel, of Sooke, Shot While Deer Hunting on Monday Afternoon With Companion

CIRCUMSTANCES ARE RELATED

The jury summoned by Coroner E. C. Hart yesterday afternoon to inquire into the death of Louis Godtel, who was shot while hunting in the Sooke district Monday afternoon, returned a verdict of accidental death after hearing the story of the unfortunate man's companion, Rev. Samuel Lundie. The inquest was held at the McCall Funeral Parlors. In thanking the jury for their attendance, Coroner Hart remarked that the evidence was clear, while it was unfortunate that with every hunting season there was a recurrence of just such accidents.

CIRCUMSTANCES RELATED
Mr. Lundie, in relating the circumstances leading up to the death of his companion, and the summoning of assistance, stated that he had gone to Sooke eight years ago, and had lived next to Mr. Godtel. For some years it had been their custom to hunt deer together. Godtel had been in poor health for some time lately, but they had recently agreed that they would hunt some fine day. On Monday morning he had gone to the Godtel home to transact some business, and had then asked Louis to hunt that afternoon.

AUDITORIUM FOR VICTORIA IS PLANNED

Project Is Discussed at Meeting in C. of C. Board Room—Subcommittee to Investigate

MUCH NEEDED FOR CONVENTIONS HERE

The prospects for the erection of a building in Victoria, which should combine an auditorium for convention purposes, with a skating rink and ice hockey arena, formed the subject of an interesting debate, conducted by the auditorium committee of the Chamber of Commerce at a special meeting, held in the board room of the chamber at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

ACTION TAKEN
After considerable discussion of the matter at issue it was decided to form a special subcommittee, composed of Messrs. Carmichael, Kent, J. Patrick and F. Patrick, which would go further into the matter and which would report upon the feasibility and cost of the project. Mr. F. Patrick, who is familiar with auditoriums and arenas throughout Canada and the United States, will be invited to

MR. THOMAS OPTIMISTIC FOR CANADA

Is Still in Consultation Concerning Coal, and Steel Industry Is Working for Itself

FARM TRAINING IS BEING CONSIDERED

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Right Hon. J. H. Thomas informed the House at question time today that he had had a number of further consultations with coal and shipping interests concerned in the increased sale of British coal in Canada. These had raised a number of questions which would require careful consideration, and consequently he would make no further statement at present.

TRAINING FOR CANADA

Asked if he would consider training men and women for farm work in Britain instead of Canada, Mr. Thomas said he was already examining this question so far as men were concerned. He was satisfied, however, the questions of training persons for work in Canada and in Britain were separate and did not necessarily conflict with each other.

City Council of N. Vancouver Out For Special Tax

NORTH VANCOUVER, Nov. 19.—By resolution passed on Monday evening the city council went on record as approving the suggestion recently placed before the provincial government of levying a special tax throughout the province for educational purposes, instead of charging the tax burden against land, as at present.

The opinion of members of the council is that the levying of the special tax which would permit of land tax reductions, will materially help a situation that is annually becoming more and more acute throughout the province through land reverting to the municipalities. It was reported to the council that in the event of the government deciding in favor of the special tax, every dollar that is collected will be available for educational purposes, as no additional machinery will be required to collect the tax.

Submarine Commander Is Cheered But Boys' Mother Makes Vigorous Objection

READING, Eng., Nov. 19.—Four thousand people cheered themselves hoarse when Commander Norman Lewis, of the British Q boat, sunk by a German submarine in 1917, and Captain Hashagen, the German commander of the submarine which sunk Lewis' mystery ship, appeared together at the meeting of the League of Nations Union here today.

COLUMBIA ROAD PLAN PLEASES INTERIOR B.C.

Highway Work Will Be Needed to Provide for Unemployment, Minister Says

SITUATION MAY BECOME SERIOUS

There is general satisfaction expressed by the residents of the Eastern and Interior parts of the Province over the announced policy on the part of the Federal and Provincial Governments to construct the Big Bend road, which will connect Golden and Revelstoke by following the Columbia River, which constitutes the Big Bend. That the work is to be started and carried to completion with as little delay as possible is a further cause of satisfaction to the residents.

City Council of N. Vancouver Out For Special Tax

NORTH VANCOUVER, Nov. 19.—By resolution passed on Monday evening the city council went on record as approving the suggestion recently placed before the provincial government of levying a special tax throughout the province for educational purposes, instead of charging the tax burden against land, as at present.

LOWEST BIDDERS TO GET CONTRACT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—A plan to award ocean mail contracts to the lowest bidder was announced tonight by Postmaster-General Brown, who said it would provide a stimulus which would fill American shipyards to capacity with new building contracts within six months.

CANDIDATES IN FIELD FOR SCHOOL BOARD

Captain F. R. Wright and Mr. C. H. McMillan Will Come Before Citizens for Election as Trustees

BOTH ARE LONG RESIDENT HERE

Captain F. R. Wright, 1640 Gladstone Avenue, and Mr. C. H. McMillan, 1751 Haulin Street, have entered the field as candidates for the City School Board at the forthcoming civic election.

With the entry of Captain Wright and Mr. C. H. McMillan in the contest, there are now four candidates for the four vacancies on the school board, the other aspirants being Trustee J. E. McMillan and Mr. P. E. George. Trustee J. L. Beckwith has reached no decision as to whether he will offer himself for re-election to the board or not. Mr. C. H. McMillan, who is a brother of Trustee McMillan, has been a resident of Victoria for twenty years and formerly was a member of the firm of Bishop & McMillan, builders. During the war he saw service overseas, being attached to the 47th Western Scots Battalion and the Canadian Engineers.

Great Floods Again Strike South Wales

CARDIFF, Wales, Nov. 19.—Southern Wales for the second time in recent weeks, was again suffering great distress tonight from serious floods which followed upon twenty-four hours of tremendous rainfall. Only one death was reported, but there were many narrow escapes from drowning.

New Premier and New Ministry Are Chosen for Iraq

BAGDAD, Nov. 19.—Nazi Bey Suwaidi, Minister of the Interior in the cabinet of the late Sir Abdul Muhiyin, today formed a new ministry. The personnel resembled the same, with the addition of one newcomer, Khalid Sulaiman, who was appointed Minister of Immigration and Agriculture. Sir Abdul Muhiyin committed suicide last week because of despondency at charges that he was a traitor to Iraq in his dealings with the British.

LADY PALCONBRIDGE DIES

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Mr. Rudyard Kipling has been ordered abroad for his health by his physicians. The author, who will be sixty years of age next month, has canceled a radio speech scheduled for December 12.

Petition Filed On Election of Mr. McMaster

SHERBROOKE, Que., Nov. 19.—Mr. A. W. Pratt, filed a petition here in the Superior Court yesterday to annul the Compton provincial by-election which was held on September 30 last. The petitioner claims that the defendant, Hon. A. R. McMaster, Provincial Treasurer, paid money to corrupt the electors.

WAR VETERANS GATHER TODAY FOR BUSINESS

Annual Convention to Be Held at Regina Expected to Be Largely Attended by Delegates

MUCH INTEREST BEING EVINCED

REGINA, Nov. 19.—Every province in Canada will be represented at the Dominion convention of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire, to be held from November 25 to 28. Credentials have been issued to delegates who will represent local branches from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and in addition it is expected delegates will attend from the few branches in the United States.

LEGION DEVELOPING

This is believed to be largely due to the increased interest aroused in the work of the Legion by the election last year of Sir Arthur Currie, Commander of the Canadian Corps, to the presidency of the Legion. His acceptance of the position and the close touch he has kept with the Legion's affairs, have been inspiring to thousands of his men to once again follow his leadership.

CAUCUS BRINGS LEGISLATORS TO VICTORIA

Gathering Is Preliminary to Convention at Kamloops on Saturday of Conservatives

SOME MEMBERS HERE ALREADY

Already Conservative members of the Legislature are beginning to gather in the city for the caucus of the party, which has been set for Thursday. Dr. L. E. Borden, member for Nelson; Captain J. Fitzsimmons, of Kaslo-Bonanza; Colonel Fred Lister, Creston, and Mr. M. Manson, Mackenzie, are in the capital going into departmental business in the various offices in the Parliament Buildings, before the caucus takes place.

Some other members from the outside are in Vancouver and will be here today, so that they may get any departmental business out of the way before the caucus begins. This is necessary in order that this work may be disposed of, and allow them to keep Thursday free for the consideration of party business, and be ready to proceed on Friday afternoon to the Mainland on route to the convention in Kamloops.

NEW HEAD OF AUSTRALIAN OPPOSITION

Nationalist Party Replaces Hon. Stanley Bruce With Hon. J. J. Latham as Its Chief

LEADER HAS HAD EMINENT CAREER

Party Is in Condition of Disruption and Much Diffraction Is Apparent Among Leading Men

CANBERRA, Australia, Nov. 19.—(Canadian Press Cable, via Reuter's).—Replacement of Right Hon. Stanley Bruce, former Prime Minister, as leader of the Nationalist Party and the possible formation of a new party by those Nationalists opposed to the party's policy, are consequences of the party's decisive defeat in the recent Australian general elections.

Hon. J. J. Latham, who was Attorney-General in the former Bruce Government, was today elected leader of the Nationalist party in succession to Mr. Bruce.

IS NATIVE SON
Hon. John J. Latham, K.C., C.M.G., M.P., new leader of the Nationalist party and consequently a possible future Prime Minister of Australia, is a native son of Ascot Vale, Victoria State. He was called to the bar in 1904 and for some years afterwards was a lecturer at Melbourne University.

EXPULSED FROM PARTY
Mr. G. A. Maxwell, member of the Assembly for Fawcett, Victoria, was expelled from the party yesterday but he nevertheless attended today and commenced former Premier Bruce in a dramatic speech over the question of the abolition of Federal arbitration. This plank in the party's election programme resulted in its defeat and is now resulting in a division.

Right Hon. William Morris Hughes, war-time Premier of Australia, with Mr. Maxwell and other "rebels" met this afternoon to discuss the possibility of formation of a new party.

Nationalization Of All Mines Is Australian Cry

SYDNEY, N.W.S.W., Nov. 19.—The Government of the State of New South Wales is advertising for miners at reduced rates for the immediate reopening of the Rothbury colliery. It had been decided to commence state operations on the Matland mines, which have been idle for economic reasons. Conference between the Government, miners and owners failed to solve the difficulties.

It is expected now that the Miners' Union will call out 10,000 miners in the northern coal fields and also from the mines in the western and southern districts. Jock Garden, secretary of the Labor Council, has gone to Canberra, the capital, to urge the Federal Government to take over all mines.

ASK BRITISH FLOUR IN BRITISH LOAVES

LONDON, Nov. 19.—The suggestion that legislation should be passed compelling the use of a certain percentage of British flour in every British loaf, has been considered, but he had been convinced it was impracticable, said Hon. Noel Buxton, Minister of Agriculture, in answer to a question in Parliament yesterday. He held that object might instead be achieved by means of a "national mark" scheme.

Death Sentence Is Quashed by Privy Council

LONDON, Nov. 19. — Dr. Benjamin Knowles, whose death sentence at Kumasi, Ashanti, a year ago, on a charge of the murder of his wife and was commuted later by the Governor of the Gold Coast to life imprisonment, today won his appeal before the Privy Council and will soon be a free man. Dr. Knowles' chief defence was a death-deposition by his wife that the pistol wound from which she died had been caused accidentally. The Privy Council apparently accepted the deposition and the King is to be advised to quash the conviction.

Provincial Police Court

W. Washbrook, who was brought all the way from Calgary to face a charge of stealing a cheque from Pavoic, employed by the Kapur Lumber Company, Sooke Lake, was remanded for eight days, in the Provincial Police Court yesterday, by Magistrate Jay.

Constable Tweedhope, of the B.C. Provincial Police, escorted Washbrook from the Albermarle city, in which place he was arrested. The accused is detained at city police headquarters.

Nature's Specifics for Coughs and Colds

Nature has provided specifics for many of the ills to which man is subject. Perhaps there is no better example than the treatment of coughs, colds and kindred ailments. LINSEED or flaxseed is what the doctors call a demulcent. In other words its value from a medicinal point of view is that it soothes and allays irritations and abrasions. TURPENTINE is antiseptic, stimulating and sedative to the local nerves. Almost everybody knows the value of turpentine as a treatment for bronchial affections.

The combination of linseed and turpentine with some other equally valuable ingredients have made Dr. Chase's "Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine" the most effective and most popular treatment for coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, etc.

MODERN SURVEY METHODS TOLD

Mr. J. E. Umbach Reads Interesting Paper to Victoria Centre of Royal Astronomical Society

SPEAKER DESCRIBES NEW INSTRUMENTS

Last night at a meeting of the Victoria Centre of the Royal Astronomical Society, which was held at Victoria College, Mr. J. E. Umbach, surveyor-general of British Columbia, read an exceedingly interesting paper upon "Post-War Developments in Surveying Instruments and Methods."

Mr. Umbach, whose lecture was illustrated by a number of lantern slides, was introduced by Mr. J. A. Pearce, M.A., president of the Victoria Centre.

Mr. Umbach began by saying that speaking of surveying instruments to an astronomical society might, at first sight, seem analogous to delivering a dissertation on house painting to an artist. However, however, covered a widely diversified field, and there were points, particularly in regard to the instruments employed, when the two sciences ran side by side.

IMPROVEMENTS OF DECADE

During the last decade, he continued, that is to say during the years since the signing of Armistice, there has been many changes made in surveying instruments. In hydrographic surveys, for example, it was no longer necessary for soundings to be taken by means of the lead line. It was now possible to send a sound wave from the deck of a ship, and to pick up the echo as the wave found bottom, the depth being determined by the elapsed time between the sending of the wave and the reception of the echo.

DESCRIBE FORMS OF TRANSITS

The speaker showed a number of slides of the various forms of transit, which he described as the surveyor's most useful tool. The verniers were now covered with glass, the framework had been made lighter and more durable, manufacturers had studied the production of light alloys, the telescope had an internal focus, was shorter and had a wider aperture, and modern dividing engines were used to cut far superior graduated circles.

Mr. Umbach spoke of the strides made by European instrument makers and showed slides of instruments produced by Zeiss, in Germany, and Wild, in Switzerland. These, he said, compared favorably with the best productions of Berger, in the United States.

SETTLEMENT OF LANDS

"What we are engaged in today," he concluded, "is, primarily, the settlement of the lands of British Columbia, and it is necessary, above everything, that we should be as accurate as possible. We are faced with much the same problems as those in Switzerland, where lightness, always providing that it does not interfere with accuracy, is essential, owing to the difficult country which we have to cover."

"One of our chief aims at the present time is to bring up to date and to improve our maps. In this connection photography is being made use of, and there is every reason to believe that aerial survey will come into its own in the near future."

After the speaker had described the general idea lying behind the triangular control survey of British Columbia, the meeting wound up with a general discussion upon the paper, and Mr. Umbach was accorded a hearty vote of thanks.

CANDIDATES IN FIELD FOR SCHOOL BOARD

CAPTAIN WRIGHT

Captain Wright has lived in Victoria and vicinity during the past quarter of a century. For fifteen years he was attached to the Imperial Engineers, and took part in the siege of Ladang in the South African War. He came to Esquimalt in 1904 to construct the Signal Hill fortifications, and the following year was transferred to the Royal Canadian Engineers when the latter took over the Esquimalt garrison. For twenty years Captain Wright was stationed at Work Point Barracks, being retired five years ago. Since then he has lived at 1640 Gladstone Avenue.

During his lengthy residence in Esquimalt, Captain Wright has been identified with the Men's Canadian Club, and is an active member of the United Services Institution.

PRESENT TRUSTEES

The four retiring members of the School Board this year are Trustees J. L. Beckwith, Alexander Peden, J. S. McMillan and Arthur C. Pike. Trustees Peden and Pike are not seeking re-election to the board, but are candidates for the City Council. Trustee McMillan is seeking his second two-year term on the School Board, and Trustee Beckwith has not yet announced his intentions. The remaining members of the board, Trustees George Jay, W. C. Moreby, K.C., and G. A. A. Hebdien, still have another year to serve.

Immediate intention of placing a minister in Moscow. Any diplomatic question which might arise would be handled through the British Ambassador in London, as in the many other countries in which Canada has no direct representation. Should Russia desire to once again send a trade mission to Canada that would be a matter of very serious consideration for Prime Minister Mackenzie King and his Government.

The last mission sent by the Soviets to Canada was later compelled to leave the country. The authorities at Ottawa were convinced that the legal lists of names of Russians living in Canada and the violent literature which the mission had in its possession, had nothing to do with trade, but were for political purposes. The Government, for this reason, put the mission out of the country.

It was not because of any aversion to trading with Russia that Canada took the action it did, for this country is constantly seeking new foreign markets, but because the mission was believed to be exceeding its trade functions.

ARRIVES AT REGINA

REGINA, Nov. 19.—Prime Minister Mackenzie King and party arrived in Regina this afternoon and were greeted on behalf of the city by Mayor James McArthur. The station platform was crowded when Mr. King stepped from his private car as the band played popular airs. Hon. A. C. Dunning reached the city a few minutes ahead of the Prime Minister and was on hand to welcome his chief.

The visitors went at once to Government House, where Mr. King is the guest of Lieut.-Governor H. H. Newlands during his stay in Regina. A dinner in honor of the Premier was held tonight, to which many of the leading citizens of Regina were invited. An extensive program was planned for tomorrow, concluding with a public meeting, which Mr. King will address at night.

CAUCUS BRINGS LEGISLATORS TO VICTORIA

The Thursday caucus, it is anticipated, will be largely given over to discussion of matters affecting the coming session. The convention at Kamloops on Saturday will consist of the election of officers, and the planning in general way for the Federal campaign, which is assuredly not far off.

The convention will not extend over Saturday. The members and the delegates to the gathering will

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions? Do you know why ointments do not give you quick and lasting relief? Why cutting does not remove the cause?

Do you know the cause of piles is internal?

Do you know there is a stagnation of blood in the lower bowel?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy discovered by Dr. Leonhardt and known as HEM-ROID, now sold by MacFarlane Drug Co., Vancouver Drug Co. and druggists everywhere, that is guaranteed.

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause, by freeing blood circulation in the lower bowel. This simple home treatment has an almost unbelievable record for sure, safe and lasting relief to thousands of pile sick sufferers, and saves the needless pain and expense of an operation. Don't delay. Try HEM-ROID today. (Adv.)

that all kinds of deer were in season. I was not so careful as I should have been if bucks only were permitted. Aiming, I fired, and when I got through the brush found my friend. He was still alive. I was trying to make him comfortable when he breathed his last. I then took the rifle and went to Sooke for help, where I notified the police, and returned to the body. Mr. Godel had no distinguishing wearing apparel, and was proceeding through the thick brush on all fours.

NATIVE OF SOOKE

Louis Godel was a native of East Sooke, having been born there forty-two years ago, living in the district practically all his life. During the fishing season he was usually employed at the traps of the Sooke Harbor Fishing & Packing Company, and owned and operated Godel's Service Station. He was noted as a keen sportsman and an unerring rifle shot. He leaves a widow and two small daughters, also two stepdaughters and a stepson, to mourn his loss. There are two brothers living in Victoria, Messrs. A. and E. Godel, and two sisters in Vancouver, Mrs. J. Soward and Mrs. A. Hill.

In connection with the report in yesterday morning's issue of The Colonist to the effect that Rev. Samuel Lundie had been shot at Sooke, The Colonist staff had no reason to doubt the information it received on the night of the tragedy. The first apparently authentic news that reached the office was from Mr. Thomas Humphries, secretary of the Victoria Presbytery, who requested the paper to make a statement referring to the excellent service Mr. Lundie had rendered the church and the province during his lifetime. It appears that Mr. A. Kohout, of Sooke, telephoned Mrs. Dewar, sister of Mr. Lundie, informing her that Mr. Lundie had been shot in a hunting accident. Mrs. Dewar then immediately telephoned Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, who in turn notified Mr. Humphries. Several other telephone messages were received in the city recording by mistake the demise of Mr. Lundie. The funeral of Mr. Godel will take place on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from McCall Bros' Funeral Home. Interment will be made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

COMBINED WITH ARENA

Mr. Alfred Carmichael felt that the burning of the Arena had removed any possibility of a division of opinion upon the advisability of a combination arena and auditorium, and it was upon his suggestion that the special subcommittee was formed.

Owing to the fact that all three of the members originally suggested to serve on this committee are members of the Rotary Club, however, it is understood that two members of the Kiwanis Club will be asked to add to the number.

MR. PATRICK'S VIEW

Mr. J. Patrick, on the other hand, felt that the idea of a combination would not be feasible. Vancouver and Seattle, he said, had both got separate buildings, and it could not be denied that there were bound to be a certain number of conventions during the skating and hockey season. In answer to a question from one of the members, he stated that the old arena would be capable of seating about 8,500 persons, provided the ice rink was also used for accommodation purposes.

Mr. Prior, upon behalf of the Victoria Building Trades Council, suggested a proposition whereby an auditorium, surrounded by stores and with parking space in the basement, might be built at an approximate cost of $700,000.

ROCK CRUSHER IS INSTALLED AT CRANBROOK

Minister of Public Works Returns From Inspection of Large Section of Interior Highways

FERNIE SEEKS ALBERTA LINK

The first rock crusher of a permanent type to be provided in the Interior of the province is the one which the Government has installed at Cranbrook. This, Hon. N. S. Loughheed says, is giving entire satisfaction. There has been a crusher of a portable kind at Creston for a time, but the one at Cranbrook marks the beginning of permanent road building in the district.

The use of gravel has not been satisfactory in the past in the matter of road construction. Unless its use is accompanied with the application of oil, there is the undesirable character lent to the roads experienced in all such cases where the gravel shifts from the traveled roads to the sides, making the travel exceedingly troublesome, and spelling ultimate ruin.

There is also the dust nuisance, which accompanies this style of road building, to which the public of the present day so seriously objects. Mr. Loughheed found the various sections of the Interior, over which he traveled on his course of inspection, quite well satisfied with the work which has been carried out this season, and which is still in progress. The work done also showed good judgment on the part of those engaged in it, and it was mostly of a very satisfactory character.

Fernie is anxious to have the road from there to connect up with Alberta put in better shape. This work is being attended to as quickly as possible. The dangerous part is being improved, and in places the road is being widened to provide for the free passage of traffic over it.

On the Coast, among other matters referred to connected with his department, Mr. Loughheed said that they were anxious to make a start on the North Arm bridge. The delay was occasioned only in order to obtain the release from the municipality concerning this work.

DEER SHOOTING HAS BEEN EXTENDED BY ATTORNEY-GENERAL

VANCOUVER, Nov. 19.—Deer shooting season in the Western district which was scheduled to close on November 30, has been extended by the Attorney-General to December 15, was announced by the game commission today.

The present deer season has been very dry and few animals were shot. As a result, farmers reported considerable damage to crops. It is on these representations, principally from the farmers, that the season has been extended.

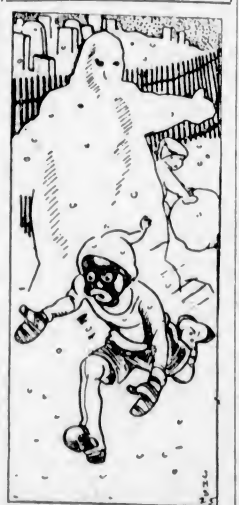

The Western district includes Vancouver Island and the mainland and all territory west of the Cascade Mountains.

A change is also announced in the trapping season for otter. Formerly beaver, muskrat and otter were trapped from March 1 to April 15. By the change the season for otter will open on November 1 and close at the end of February. Beaver and muskrat trapping seasons are unaltered.

Prospectors Venture Into Unexplored Fastnesses of Interior Vancouver Island

An interesting account of the wonders of the unexplored parts of the big interior of Vancouver Island is told upon the arrival back in civilization of two prospectors, Messrs. Joe Obinger, of Big Bend, California, and Jack Brendel, of Alberni, who have just undertaken an extensive prospect covering the entire Summer and Fall, of the area situated between the headwaters of Bear River, Bedwell Sound and the Moyeha River, Herbert Arm, this area lying both in and out of the southern boundary of Strathcona Park, where it crosses over the centre of the Island to the West Coast.

Mr. Obinger, who is completing an eighteen months' prospect on the West Coast of the Island, is returning to his home in California this week, and Mr. Brendel to Alberni, and their interesting description of the trip just completed was graphically described to Major George Nicholson, proprietor of the Clayquot Hotel, while waiting for the Princess Norah to bring them south.

While the greater part of their time was taken up in prospecting the Bear River Valley and doing development work on several claims they own in that area, an expedition was undertaken to the more inaccessible territory at the higher levels and it was there the interesting discoveries were made. Both these prospectors have been exploring these rivers for twenty years or more, but this is their first trip to the higher levels and it is believed locally that this is the first time this particular section has ever been visited by any man, white or Indian. Certainly there is not to be found any sign of man, no camps sites, survey marks, blazes or other trace of man having gone before.

AT HIGH ALTITUDE

The main part of the exploration was conducted at an altitude of 6,000 feet, barometer reading, where, when this height was reached after almost precipitous climbing, the land generally maintained this more or less even altitude with the exception of the many high mountain peaks continuing up another two or three thousand feet and which were mostly covered with snow all Summer.

A series of benches exists in most places, some several hundred feet above the other, and several of these benches, in some cases several miles in extent, were found to be of hard granite formation, granite of a high grade and bare, making a most imposing sight when glistening in the sunlight, and with the sun at a certain angle, being almost blinding to the eyes.

The only mineral observed in this area was iron, there being large areas of almost pure iron, covering in some instances hundreds of feet across. It is not thought that there are many other minerals in this high area, and in any case they would be too inaccessible to work. The principle mountain peaks in this area are Mount Sepimus, the big interior mountain, and Mount Granite, all situated within Strathcona Park.

VIEW HUGE GLACIER

In the valley between the high peaks at the headwaters of the Bear River, within the southwestern boundaries of Strathcona Park, was observed the magnificent Taylor Glacier, and though it was during the hottest period of the Summer when the party camped alongside it, little did it appear to be affected in any way by the rays of sun at that altitude. This high glacier appears to be about five miles long and varies in width from five hundred to a thousand feet. By the depth of the valley through which it traverses it must be several hundred feet thick, with a sheer thickness of two hundred feet where it breaks off in chunks and irregular formations at the brink of a steep rocky ledge. With its deep crevasses and irregular serrations, and its green color, it presents a weird and fascinating spectacle. On account of the broken nature of its surface and its deep fissures it is not possible to walk across the glacier, except possibly at certain parts, and then at considerable risk.

ZONING BY-LAW UNDER SURVEY

Special Committee Will Go Thoroughly Into Pros and Cons of Entire Matter of Restrictions

MR. B. BOGGS GIVES OPINION

Last night the special committee appointed by the Real Estate Board of Victoria, met to discuss the pros and cons of the Zoning By-Law. The committee is composed of Mr. James Forman, Mr. David Leeming, Major Wolfenden and Major Kirkpatrick Crockett, who represents the city of Victoria.

It is understood that it will take the committee a considerable time to thoroughly look into the whole question of zoning, and it may be some time before any definite report can be made to the Real Estate Board.

In the meantime opinions vary among the realtors of the city. Yesterday Mr. Beaumont Boggs, one of the leading realtors of Victoria, told The Colonist that, in his opinion, the Zoning By-Law was desirable in many respects.

INSUFFICIENTLY DIGESTED
"I think, however," continued Mr. Boggs, "that the question has not been sufficiently digested, and that it is not properly understood by the great majority of property holders. In the adoption of all drastic restrictions, great care should be taken in depriving owners of property of rights which they have long enjoyed."

"It is a zoning by-law were brought into existence for a new town or for a large new subdivision, it would be very desirable; but, in a community where property has been held for many years without restriction, it certainly appears to deprive owners of a right which has been long enjoyed."

"The Legislature, which passed an act respecting town planning provided that: 'It should not be injurious to any existing owner of property.' In my opinion, the whole act should be carefully examined by all citizens, in order that they may understand the restrictions which have recently been brought about."

Prosecutions Initiated Under Lord's Day Act

At the instigation of Chief of Police John Fry four prosecutions were launched in city police court yesterday morning under the Lord's Day Alliance Act arising out of the alleged opening of a stock broker's office on a Sunday during the recent heavy decline of prices on the stock exchange. In connection with the alleged opening the chief of police visited the office of Messrs. Branson, Brown & Company, Ltd., and sanctioned to prosecute was obtained by him under a flat issued by the Attorney-General.

The defendants and charges are as follows:
Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd., unlawfully carrying on their ordinary business as stock brokers on the Lord's Day.

H. A. Humber, unlawfully operating a telegraph wire and receiving telephone messages with regard to stocks over the telephone on the Lord's Day.

Harry Bapty, unlawfully carrying on his ordinary calling as board man in a stock broker's office on the Lord's Day.

The Colonist Printing and Publishing Company, unlawfully advertising, printing and publishing in a newspaper an announcement to the effect that Branson, Brown & Co. would open to receive business on the Lord's Day.

Mr. H. A. Maclean, K.C., who appeared for the four defendants, pleaded not guilty and on his request the case was adjourned, the hearing of the charges against The Colonist and Harry Bapty being set for Thursday and the other two charges for Friday.

VICTORIA'S WATERFRONT

There has never been a co-ordinated plan for the improvement of Victoria's waterfront along that stretch from the Outer Wharves through Beacon Hill Park to Cook Street and beyond, as far as Ross Bay Cemetery. What has been done to capitalize the major scenic attraction of the city is represented by a minimum of effort. A seawall from the present Ogden Point breakwater to Menzies Street was constructed because it became necessary through the erosion of the coast line. Dallas Road was paved and street lighting instituted, but these are routine improvements. Apart from these the waterfront is largely in its primitive state. It is one of the greatest assets possessed within the city limits, but City Council after City Council has remained inept, and never even discussed a programme of development that could be made a source of perennial recreation and interest to our citizens and the visitors in our midst.

Again and again it has been pointed out in these columns that any other city possessing such a waterfront as Victoria has would have capitalized it for the purpose of civic development. The view is magnificent. That view is the lodestar weekly of thousands of our people, and is one of the first things that attracts the attention and compels the admiration of our tourists. The waterfront along the stretch noted should be made a centre of interest by the establishment of facilities for recreation and enjoyment. The money would be well spent, because the returns would be cumulative. A properly planned waterfront would attract residents to the vicinity. There is little doubt that hotels and apartment houses would be planned for the Dallas Road if the attractions were sufficient. Recreations would be a lure to tourists and keep them here longer than they stay at present.

The stretch of land lying between Menzies Street and Dallas Avenue offers every facility for conversion into a park area with an amusement pavilion, with lighting facilities, with walks and a roadway for motorists skirting the sea shore. Further along, opposite Horrasah Bay, another crescent roadway could be built with embankments for the parking of motor cars. As it is, on the rough, this is a favorite spot for motorists to take up their position and enjoy the view of the Olympics. Scores of these can be seen there any Sunday and often in any weather. Beacon Hill Park should be lighted up and paths built to the shore line for pedestrians. Between Cook Street and Clover Point the land between the Dallas Road and the beach could be cleaned up and turned into a park area. These are only a few of the improvements that suggest themselves as obvious. There are doubtless many others that could be established in the course of years.

What is obvious is that a city which caters to the tourist traffic should make some efforts to capitalize such an asset as its waterfront, especially in a case where the view is of such grandeur as can be obtained from the Dallas Road and Beacon Hill Park. It is not suggested that there should be large expenditures at once. The plans for improvements could, however, be mapped out in advance and undertaken by instalments. Nothing in the way of civic effort to improve the fortunes of the city from the standpoint of attracting visitors here and catering to the wishes of our own people would be likely to attract a larger share of attention than such a programme as is suggested. It is a matter that requires vision, but there are people with such vision in our midst whose advice could be secured by the civic authorities. No City Council that has ever been in office here has been able to visualize the possibilities of our waterfront. They are immense from the standpoint of attracting population. They are unique in some respects. As the waterfront exists it is a standing reproach to the lack of ingenuity that prevails in civic development.

THE "MILKY WAY" OF POLITICS

Mr. Mackenzie King's trip in Western Canada has left the people no richer in knowledge as to what his Government intends to do on the tariff issue. So far as policy is concerned he is still "waiting to see" what the United States will do. He does not admit that initiative should lie with the Dominion. He infers that action is contingent on American tariffs, and yet he gives no promise of such action. All that he has said indicates a species of wandering in the "Milky Way" of words. The only fact that emerges is his desire that a "hush-hush" policy should be pursued where any talk is concerned of legislating in the interests of Canada where those interests conflict with the interests of the United States.

Mr. King never has got to close quarters with the subject of the tariff. He believes that it should be approached in a nebulous way, although economic facts have a hardness that cannot be shirked. He has never given an understandable definition of his tariff policy, as a matter of fact it is and has been a policy of opportunism. Out of what he has said, however, emerges a realization of his belief that he does not consider the great adverse balance of trade between this country and the United States as in any way prejudicial to the Dominion. Seemingly he would not disturb that balance, but allow it to grow more adverse yearly, as it is growing under the policies of the Liberal Administration at Ottawa. In effect Mr. King's Western utterances have been in the nature of an apology. He was on a political tour. In the Prairies he skirted round the tariff issue, defending his Government for its policy of "watchful waiting". In British Columbia, which he knows is a protectionist province, he eluded any statement that could be interpreted as policy on the tariff issue.

Mr. King has the faculty of adorning his political speeches with a surplussage of verbiage. He is not an exponent of straight-flung words and few. He has the rhetorical gift of circling round his intentions, which are finally lost in a maze of sentences. In other words, he is verbally voluminous and there are always a large number of people who are interested in a euphonious flow of sentences, irrespective of the meanings which they convey. The intentions of the Federal Government to redress the adverse balance of trade between Canada and the United States remain obscure, probably because no policy exists at all. Mr. King has left the issue hung up in the "Milky Way" of political rhetoric, which is not good for his Government, since the tariff issue will bulk largely at the next Federal election.

VOTERS' LISTS

The system that prevails in British Columbia for the compilation of voters' lists belongs to the effete order. Registration is simply a matter of self-determination. It is, therefore, no surprise that lists should be so incomplete and that the percentage of those entitled to vote who go to the polls continues to constitute a reflection on the amount of public interest centred in government. New Zealand has a system which it put into practice in this province could not fail to make more of our people take an interest in politics. There, in every riding, there is a paid official who keeps the lists in shape all the time. It is his duty to see that everyone is on the voters' lists. Those who are not are subjected to a fine. He is kept supplied with vital statistics so that where deaths occur names are struck off the lists. Here the dead are still considered as eligible to vote long after they have passed away. A move in the right direction would be compulsory registration, with the facilities for such available always and not just at a certain time in each year. If only some 50 per cent of the electorate goes to the polls, when an expression of public opinion is wanted on issues of national or provincial moment, the system of preparing voters' lists must be held, in part, to blame.

Mr. William Cleary has been appointed chief commissioner of the Australian railways and offered a salary of $37,500. He says the salary is too large and has intimated his willingness to accept $25,000. This is an instance of altruism in public service. There are 28,000 miles of state railways in Australia with gross earnings of more than $220,000,000 annually. The executive post is a big one for which Mr. Cleary is willing to accept a salary very much below that paid to other executives whose duties could hardly be so onerous.

Britain's Labor Ministers believe they can influence the literary tastes of their followers and so they are fostering the establishment of a Socialist Theatre in London in which Socialist plays will be performed. This is a form of propaganda borrowed from Russia. Like Russia it may be only a short time before Socialism in Britain attempts to influence the religion of the people.

THE OLYMPICS

Last eve I watched these close thy gates of white, And round thy frozen shoulder night clouds fold, Rosy and warm with evening's mellow breath, While at thy feet the ocean, green and gold, Sprayed fragrant incense round to greet the night. Thy lofty heights my very soul enthralled, And makes me feel such puny strength is mine; Too poor, too weak, to strive to heights divine, To find the peace eternal low installa. Could I but reach such heights of perfect love, I'd climb in penitence and agony— God reaching down to help from heaven above— Till on the crest I'd find another way. That leads to Love and Life another way. —Margaret Bradshaw, Victoria, B.C.

THEN AS NOW

Looking back over a long and active career "Tay Pay" O'Connor, in his eighty-first year, makes this observation from the wheelchair in his London apartment: "When a man gets to be as old as I am he realizes that there is a lot of humbug in politics; that often whole situations would have been changed if there had been enough jobs to go around." The philosopher reaches that state of life when he has nothing to fear finds politics an unchanged art, his practitioners much the same in every country and its comedy amusing except when it is freighted with tragedy for the innocent.—New York Sun.

The persons who have the most sublime contempt for money are the same that have the strongest appetite for the pleasures it enables them to procure.—Shenstone.

I will take heed to my ways that I sin not with my tongue; I will keep my mouth with a bridle.—Psalm 39.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

There has been "a chiel among us takin' notes, an' faith he's printed it." In other words, we are again prostrate upon the stool of repentance, and over us stands the dominie, with words of reproof upon his lips and the tax on his hands. We are charged by Robert Connell, journalist of repute and poet of more than local repute, of bearing false witness against Ramsay MacDonald. The charge against us is that in an article discussing Mr. MacDonald as a Scotman, an article written in reply to certain correspondents who had charged us with being prejudiced against the Scottish people, we said we had never read of the Prime Minister giving expression to sentiments of loyalty to Scotland. Mr. Connell has quoted copiously from a book written by Mr. MacDonald, and the quotations prove that the Prime Minister has publicly given expressions of loyalty to his native land and admiration and love for his fellow-countrymen.

The charge and the refutation remind us of a story told about the great but somewhat eccentric Professor James of Edinburgh University. One day when delivering a lecture to his students the professor noticed that one of the young men in the class did not appear to be paying close attention to the words of his discourse, and was not taking notes, and caustically rebuked the young man for his indifference. After the lecture was over, one of the students went upon the platform and whispered into the ear of the Professor that the boy he had rebuked was suffering from some physical infirmity (we believe it was blindness) and that his apparent indifference was due to this infirmity. The hasty-tempered but generous-minded old man was so overcome by the thought of the pain he had inadvertently inflicted upon the student that he jumped down from the platform, put his arm around the lad, and sobbed: "My boy, I did not know; I did not know!"

So we had never read the book from which Mr. Connell quoted; we had read nothing but the political speeches and the Socialist writings of the Prime Minister, and did not know. At the same time there is something about the life and works of Mr. MacDonald which we cannot understand. We cannot understand why it is that a man who professes such deep love for his native land and loyalty to his own folk cannot find a small place in his heart to cherish and nourish some love for and pride in the great Empire which the sons of Scotland have played a considerable part in creating. We know, of course, what the admirers of the Prime Minister will say to that. They will say Mr. MacDonald is as loyal to the Empire as any of his contemporary public men, but that his views as to the most effective manner of maintaining the power and prestige of the Empire differ from the views of his contemporaries. The Prime Minister is a poet and a dreamer, and poets and dreamers are generally idealists.

Notwithstanding the possibility of being tripped up again, with Mr. Connell watching our step, we venture to say that there is no record in history, excepting in the case of the pastoral poet David, of a major or a minor poet becoming a practical statesman. In fact, great poets have been chiefly noted for the vagrancy and variety of their national and domestic sentiments. The heart of Byron was so full of the love of humanity that he undertook to accomplish the liberation of the Greeks. The heart of Ramsay MacDonald is so full of the love of humanity that he has undertaken to achieve the liberation of the whole world.

And while the Prime Minister is dreaming about the grandeur of his mission of love, look at what is going on in his own country. The vain dream of the leader is reflected in the dreams of his followers. The people of Great Britain are dreaming of a Utopia in which everybody will be assured of a comfortable livelihood without incurring the pains and penalties and degradation of labor. The Empire is to be stripped of its defenses and the cost of maintaining those necessities applied to the extension of the dole system. All children as soon as they have completed their terms at school are to come automatically under the provisions of the dole system. If boys are still what boys used to be, there will be no incentive for them to learn any profession, business or trade. They will acquire the habit of idleness, which is a habit not hard to acquire, and will become what is known in this country as confirmed loafers, and confirmed loafers everywhere are prone to the acquirement of more vicious habits than the habit of idleness.

The first duty of a statesman is to his own country. The statesman MacDonald may possibly believe that he is performing his first duty. But if his vision were as broad as

"ORIGIN UNKNOWN"

Sir—A blinding stable, razed, but unavailing efforts to save it, tortured occupants, valuable stock wiped out, origin of the fire unknown—these are the reports which we read of with monotonous recurrence.

We can offer a shrewd guess that the majority of these calamitous fires escape through the habits of smoking in a building set aside for animals. At the outset, let us say that those who cannot deny themselves the pleasure of a smoke while within such a building should undoubtedly stay out of it. "Smoking strictly prohibited" should be the watchword hung in every place where stock is housed. In all cases those who smoke in the home of an animal are playing with chance, but unwilling to entertain the thought that any harm can come from their particular brand of carelessness.

We ought to remember that imprisoned or domesticated animals are practically at our mercy. We have flched from them the prized liberty or have made them subservient to our own ends. An animal in a burning building has little hope of escape; its condition of panic considerably lessens the hope of rendering any assistance.

There are, of course, certain fire-proof buildings with mechanical apparatus for releasing animals in case of need, but the use of these is the exception rather than the rule and the majority of stables, barns, cages and pens are easily ignited.

Surely there can be no death more terrible than death by fire. If such an end were offered to any one of us, we should shrink from the mere contemplation of its suffering. Why, then, should we make it even possible for some other creature to endure this same agony? Apart from the question of pain is the probable loss of personal property which may mean ruin to a man whose living depends upon the welfare of his stock. It is safe to say that the able to a poor man, and all—whatever degree of worth they may represent—are ended with the same capacity for suffering.

Several valuable animals were destroyed in a burning stable . . . from which it was impossible to extricate them. The origin of the fire is unknown.

THE PITCAIRN ISLANDERS

Sir—In the magazine portion of Sunday's Colonist there is a description given of the Pitcairn Islanders; viz., the descendants of the mutineers of the Houma and in reading this description one would naturally infer that the original Pitcairn Islanders still inhabit that island.

I would like to point out that in 1855 the convict settlement of Norfolk Island was withdrawn, and the Pitcairn Islanders were offered Norfolk Island as a settlement in lieu of their lonely home at Pitcairn Island. They were very ready to accept, and on June 8, 1855, the Morayshire anchored off Kingman's Bluff, the whole population of Pitcairn Island, numbering 194 sons.

I have some friends in Norfolk Island and from their description of the place, although still primitive, it must be an ideal spot to live in, that is, for those wishing to lead the "simple life" in an island of thirteen square miles, with a population of 900 people. No rates and taxes, no bankruptcy, or divorce laws, and an ideal climate with a mean temperature of sixty-eight degrees.

At the present time eight surnames of the Pitcairn families predominate on the island, the names being Nobbs, Buffett, Christian, Adams, Evans, Quintall, McCoy and Auing, all direct descendants of the mutineers of the Houma. I should here mention that the inhabitants of Norfolk Island are divided into two classes—the "Islanders" and the "Mainlanders." The former are descendants of the Pitcairn Islanders. The "Mainlanders" are those people not of Pitcairn origin, but who came to the island by sea or by land. The descendants of the Pitcairn Islanders are not so uneducated and unsophisticated as the article in yesterday's Colonist would lead one to believe, in fact many of the "Islanders" have received secondary and university education in New Zealand and Australia or the Old Country, and the descendants of the mutineers of the Houma are very different from what they were in the year 1855.

"PROGRESS WITHOUT DEBT"

Sir—Your readers may remember that a fortnight ago I proposed to the City Council that the City Engineer should proceed with the improvements necessary on Pandora Avenue from the junction at Port Street to Camowen Street at an estimated cost of $10,000, and that the cost should be borne by the current year's finances.

About three weeks previous the Mayor submitted to the council a sketch by-law based upon a ten-year programme of improvements at a cost of $1,000,000, in which the Pandora Avenue figure first mentioned was included. The money required was to be borrowed on the credit of the city, as outlined in the by-law each year, and for which validating legislation would be required. The Mayor,

PASTOR SAYS GERMANY IS COMING BACK

Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson Tells Victoria Clubmen of European Country's Present
Economic Advancement

IMPRESSIONS OF TOUR RELATED

"On land and sea, Germany is coming back with a speed you and I cannot understand. She is coming back economically with a rush, and if she continues to go on at her present pace, she will conquer the world with the products of her factories," stated Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, pastor of First United Church, in giving "Some Impressions of Germany," at yesterday's combined meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs in the ballroom of the Empress Hotel.

"I think it safe to say that most of the British statesmen today believe one of the most colossal blunders after the war was the demand for reparations from Germany in the way they were demanded. The result has been that Germany's industries have developed enormously, factories being located in places where they never were before," he said.

Dr. Wilson pointed out that while other nations had hundreds of thousands of men not working, everyone in Germany was working his hardest. Germany was producing her goods into every market of the world, her mercantile business was 35 per cent greater than it was before the war, and her ships were taking a foremost place in the marine world.

The speaker observed that questions asked were: "Will the Kaiser come back? Will Germany have an Emperor again?" He was of the opinion that neither the Kaiser nor any member of his family would ever sit on the throne again, but said that it was another matter as to the continuance of the republic.

CORRUPTION PREVAILS

"The republican form of Government, in the opinion of the people, is not producing satisfactory results. They say they have never had such hard times as under the present system. There is no doubt there is more corruption among officials today in Germany than ever before, there being evidence of graft on every side. The people who are heavily taxed and witness the corruption that is going on are naturally swinging towards monarchism. Unless Germany can set her political house in order, we cannot tell what will happen," Dr. Wilson said.

Dr. Wilson briefly referred to the death of Dr. Stresemann, Germany's Foreign Minister, stating that the value of such a self-sacrificing man as Stresemann was incalculable. "No one will ever know how great a friend he was of Great Britain," he said.

The speaker said that during his 1,000 miles trip through Germany, he was greatly impressed by the high state of perfection of agriculture, farming being carried on in a scientific and successful manner. There was barely a waste acre of land. Most of the work in the fields was done by women and children.

LACK OF MONEY

Telling of impressions of Berlin, Dr. Wilson said there was an evident lack of money, reflected in the absence of many privately-owned automobiles. "It is said that in the United States there is one car to every five or six persons, but in Germany there is only one automobile to every 124 people. People are cheaply clothed, for they have not got the money they used to possess. They feel that they are burdened by onerous taxation," he pointed out.

"Everyone in Germany who can get a job is working. There are very few rich people, and very few really poor people there. People are willing to work long hours and do toil sixteen hours daily in many cases. That is why there is no general poverty," Dr. Wilson stated. Dr. Wilson was heartily thanked by President Alfred Carmichael, of the Rotary Club, and President J. B. Stephenson, of the Kiwanis Club, for his interesting message.

Minister Will Discuss School Taxation Issue

This evening Hon. J. Hinchcliffe will address a meeting under the auspices of the Central Conservative Association of the city on the subject of the school taxation in the province. The association is extending a general invitation to this meeting, and it is proposed to discuss the matter in a constructive manner.

The Minister of Education has been investigating the means available for the working out of a better system of taxation for school purposes. He has sought the opinions of members of municipal councils and school boards in order to ascertain fully the views of the public on this important subject. It is anticipated that at the meeting in the rooms of the party, Campbell Building, this evening he will give some of the plans which have appealed to him in his investigations, and upon which question he is devoting a great deal of attention preparatory to bringing down legislation next session.

R-101 MAKES LONG SUCCESSFUL TEST

Great Dirigible of Great Britain
Covers British Isles in Most Difficult Flying Conditions

CARDINGTON, Eng., Nov. 19.—Despite a fog blanket that covered all the Midlands and southern section of the British Isles, delayed railway traffic and held ships in port, Great Britain's great new dirigible R-101 yesterday completed her longest flight since her launching. Leaving her mooring mast yesterday morning with technical experts and the crew aboard, the airship sailed to Newcastle, in Northern England, and then by way of Edinburgh and Glasgow to Belfast, in Northern Ireland. From Belfast she zigzagged down the Irish Sea, passing over the Isle of Man, Blackpool, Dublin and Holyhead. She returned home this afternoon by way of Chester and the Midlands.

The flight lasted more than thirty hours and was completed without a hitch. Major G. H. Scott, commander of the R-101, was enthusiastic over the results. He said that the airship had maintained an average cruising speed of sixty miles per hour, and made satisfactory turning trials during the night. Persons on board rarely glimpsed the ground today because of the fog.

FORMER VICTORIAN

Mr. C. J. Lowe Passes Away From Effects of Operation, Due to War Wounds

The death has taken place in Vancouver of Mr. Cecil J. Lowe, aged thirty-eight, formerly a resident of Victoria, who came to this city about twenty-five years ago and for a long time was employed in the office of the Provincial Secretary. He enlisted in the 5th C.C.A., early in the war and transferred to the 62nd Battery, C.F.A. In England he went to the 5th Battery, and while on duty with that unit at Levin, France, was wounded. He later rejoined his battery and served till the Armistice. Several years ago the late Mr. Lowe left for Vancouver, where he was in the Government service.

He is survived by his wife, two sons and one daughter. Two brothers, George, in Victoria, and Arthur, in Vancouver, also survive him. The remains are to be brought to Victoria for interment. Announcement of the funeral, which will be from the B.C. Funeral Chapel, will be made later.

CANADIAN AND U.S. FARMERS TALK OF CO-OPERATIVE POOL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Co-operation between the Canadian Wheat Pool and the Farmers' National Grain Corporation of the United States is a possibility in the view of Alexander Lege, chairman of the Federal Farm Board.

The board had also had correspondence with Argentina, he said, but in view of present conditions, it would be impractical for wheat growers of the United States and Argentina to co-operate.

The minister was taking a class of boys in the Sunday school, and said, reprovingly, "John McTavish, your mouth is open."

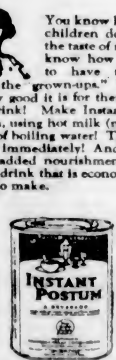

"I ken," said John, "I opened it mae."

"I sleep better
.... feel better
others say I look better"

SLEEPLESSNESS, headaches, nervousness, irritability are distressing ills that often follow the habitual use of mealtime beverages containing two drug stimulants, tannin and caffeine. With some, nervousness results, with others, sleeplessness or headaches. Don't take chances! Eliminate tannin and caffeine from your diet and use Postum. You'll sleep better—feel better—look better.

Tannin and caffeine are harmful. With you these agents may work fast or slow. Drink Postum—a delicious beverage you can wholeheartedly enjoy. Rich,

Birthday Anniversary of British Columbia Marked

Lady Douglas Chapter Holds Customary Observance of Historic Event at Fort Langley on November 19, 1858—Address by Archivist

While the public at large were reminded by the brilliant lighting of the Parliament Buildings that yesterday was the seventy-first birthday anniversary of the Crown Colony of British Columbia, an audience of between two and three hundred representatives of pioneer families and their friends celebrated the occasion in more explicit fashion at the Empress Hotel last evening. The programme was convened as usual by the Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E. In an interesting address the chairman, Mr. P. B. Pemberton, rehearsed some of the history of the incident of November 19, 1858, which was being commemorated, and the audience was brought further into touch with early activities in the province when listening to an account by the Provincial archivist, Mr. John Hosie, of a recent trip which he made through the Cariboo and Lillooet country in search of historical data. The final part of the evening was given up to the delightful musical entertainment arranged by Miss Irene Bick.

A becoming formality was given the occasion. Special guests included Hon. R. Randolph Bruce and Miss Mackenzie, and Mrs. S. F. Tolmie and Miss Carol Tolmie, who were welcomed on arrival by a reception committee comprising the regent of the chapter, Mrs. R. B. McKim, Mrs. Dennis Harris, daughter of Sir James Douglas; Miss J. Crease, Mrs. E. W. Walter and Mrs. F. Sinnott. Other members of the chapter, Mesdames Harold Grant, J. C. Dunbar, J. S. Brown and Gibbons, were in charge of the door and Mrs. Sharps acted as usher.

AT FORT LANGLEY
 The programme opened with Mr. Pemberton's brief recital of the event, which took place at Fort Langley on November 19, 1858, "which," he said, "redounds so greatly to the credit of the man who above all others we honor as the founder of Victoria."

The statesmanlike foresight of Sir James Douglas and his quickness of decisive action in a time of peril had, the speaker declared, been instrumental in insuring to Great Britain a valuable possession which otherwise might have been lost to the Empire.

It was James Douglas who had recognized the danger of the situation, and by virtue of his office as Governor and Commander-in-Chief of Her Majesty's Colony of Vancouver Island and its dependencies he had assumed prompt and decisive action.

The board had also had correspondence with Argentina, he said, but in view of present conditions, it would be impractical for wheat growers of the United States and Argentina to co-operate.

The minister was taking a class of boys in the Sunday school, and said, reprovingly, "John McTavish, your mouth is open."

"I ken," said John, "I opened it mae."

Mr. Pemberton recalled that on November 17, 1858, the colonies of Vancouver Island and British Columbia became one by the act known as Union Proclamation. But the Lady Douglas Chapter had preferred to commemorate the earlier date.

PORT CAMOESACK
 Considerable earlier history was recalled in the subsequent part of Mr. Pemberton's address, for he told how James Douglas came to Vancouver Island in 1842 to report upon the country for the Hudson's Bay Company. Leaving Fort Nisqually that year, he had come to the place which he ultimately named the Port of Camoesack or Camosun, a faithful description of the physical features of which he had given in his notes. One of his comments had been to the effect that Fort Camoesack lacked any tract of clear and sufficiently extensive for the tillage and pasture of a large agricultural establishment, but time had demonstrated the wisdom of his selection.

The Oregon boundary dispute was recalled by the speaker. The question was rife at the time of Douglas's coming to Port Camoesack (as Douglas continued to call Victoria's early site despite the fact that the Indians called it Camosun). When he returned here in March of that year in the Beaver he brought with him a small party of pioneers and a quantity of supplies, provided by Dr. W. F. Tolmie, who was at the time in charge of the Nisqually Plains Station. In a short time Douglas had the fort ready for occupation and three years later, when the Oregon boundary dispute was settled and Victoria became the headquarters of the Hudson's Bay Company on the Northwest Coast, a considerable establishment, which included wharves, warehouses and other buildings was ready.

In 1857 the commission of Mr. Douglas as governor was renewed for six years. Two years later the grant of the Hudson's Bay Company on the Island expired and Vancouver Island became a Crown colony. The governor, however, retained his position and was created a Companion of the Bath, four years later (1863), being knighted. Sir James retired a few months later and lived quietly in Victoria until his death in 1877.

"Great credit is due to the Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E., for the able work they are doing in keeping up so splendidly our great traditions of the past," said Mr. Pemberton in conclusion.

VALUABLE DATA
 Some hint of the valuable data and documents which he had collected during a recent trip through the interior of the Province was given by the provincial archivist, Mr. Hosie, in his address. Lytton, Yale, Lillooet, Seton Lake, Clinton, Williams Lake, Quesnel, Barkerville, and many other places associated with early settlement in the interior were visited. He had noted a particularly friendly interest in Victoria among the people of the Cariboo District, presumably being a survival of the connection between the two places when there was no Vancouver and Victoria was the jumping off place for the men who were starting for the gold fields. Passing through the canyons of the Yale to Lytton country he had felt a freshening respect for Simon Fraser and other early explorers as well as the miners who had gone over the old trail. It had also excited further respect for Sir James Douglas for having considered the need of the miners sufficiently to order the building of a wagon road.

At Lytton, it was noted, had been discovered some remarkable ecclesiastical records which he had, with the consent of the Bishop of Cariboo, copied with the object of placing them in the archives. In an old log house which formerly housed the gaol he had found further valuable documents. At Lillooet also he had found some ecclesiastical records, and at Seton Lake had seen the remains of the old trail built by the Royal Engineers in 1860. A Mountain, had resulted in the securing of valuable information for the archives. Photographs of great value, which would be reproduced and added to the archives, had been found in the homes of some of the old-timers at Clinton, some of the families having lived there ever since the settlement. "Fainto Magico," (Schubert), "My Lone Abode" (Schubert), "Circus" (Schubert), "Fainto Magico," and (as an encore) "Trade Winds." Miss Beatrice Hicks accompanying with genuine artistry. Miss Dorothy Morton showed something of her fine gifts as a pianist in the playing of Liszt's liquid "Nocturne" and the atmospheric "Intermezzo Scherzino" of Edouard Schmitt, and Miss Marie North sang with warmth of expression Oscar

Voters' List

Revision Court
Convenes Today

MAYOR Herbert Anson and Aldermen Robert A. C. Dewar and John L. Mara, members of the Court of Revision on the voters' list for 1929-30, will meet this morning at 10 o'clock, at the City Hall, to check the voters' list, make any alterations required and finally approve it.

The court is empowered to hear and, by a majority vote, to determine any application to strike out the name of any person which has been improperly placed on the list, or to place on the list the name of any person improperly omitted from the list.

The voters' list, as approved today by the Court of Revision, will be the basis for the civic election here on Thursday, December 12.

Fox's "Hills of Home," and the charming old English song, "As I Went a-Roaming" (May Burke), adding as an encore, "Drink to Me Only."

A special feature, however, was the suite for two violins and piano, given as the last group on the programme. This was Albert Stoessels' "Suite Antique," with a lively and graceful Bourée, a dignified Sarabande, a cheerful Rigaudon, a beautiful, romantic "Aria," and a pulsing Polka. The instrumentalists being Miss Irene Bick, first violin; Miss Adele Bucklin, second; and Miss Dumbarton at the piano. The charming work of this little trio is charming, and gained in interest from the historic character of the violins, both of which were made by the great Ruggeri in the middle of the seventeenth century.

MUST STAND TRIAL ON MURDER CHARGE

NORTH VANCOUVER, Nov. 19.—Charged with the murder of Joe Cew Way, Chinese vegetable peddler, November 8, Albert Wiser and Charles Melvin McCright, North Vancouver youths, were committed for trial by Magistrate R. A. Sargent in police court today. Chief of Police Peter Stewart submitted a statement alleged to have been made by Wiser to the chief, Deputy Chief George Gauld and Constable A. Shannon.

The principal of the firm was asked to give a description of his partner, who had been drowned. He replied: "He's six feet long and two thousand pounds short."

City & District

In Charge of Store—Mr. James E. Huxtable has been appointed in charge of the Johnson Street branch of the Government Liquor Stores. He has entered upon his duties.

Vacates Office—Mr. George R. Naden has retired from the position of Deputy Minister of Lands in the Parliament Buildings. He will be succeeded by Mr. Harry Cathcart, superintendent of the Lands branch.

Publisher Here—Mr. George M. Cornwall, of Portland, Ore., well known to lumbermen throughout British Columbia, and the Pacific Coast States as the publisher of The Lumberman, is at present a visitor in the city.

Went to Vancouver—Hon. P. P. Burden, Minister of Lands, left yesterday afternoon for Vancouver to attend the dinner of the B.C. Loggers' Association, which was held in Vancouver last evening. Mr. Burden was the guest of the association at this function.

Cold Snap Recalled—November 19, 1896, thirty-three years ago, Victoria was experiencing one of the coldest snaps in its history. The thermometer was down to near zero, and the intense cold prevailed for a week. Pipes were frozen in many houses, and general discomfort prevailed.

To Visit Here—Mr. Guy Davenport, late assistant manager of the Banff Hot Springs Hotel, will arrive here today en route to Honolulu, where he will spend the winter as assistant manager of the Royal Hawaiian Hotel, which is one of the hostels of the Territorial Hotel Company, managed by Mr. A. Bengalia, well known hotel man, who was for some time identified with the Empress Hotel here.

Action Falls—Judge Lampman, in his judgment handed down yesterday in the County Court case of Holmes versus Warner, holds that the plaintiff's action must fail. The case was one brought by Dr. C. Denton Holmes against Mrs. Jennie Warner for $265, balance of account for medical attention to defendant's husband, who died. Mr. R. C. Lowe appeared for Dr. Holmes at the trial and Mr. Gordon A. Cameron for defendant.

Ship in Distress—Attracted by the rumor that a ship was in distress off Clover Point, several hundred persons flocked to the vicinity between 6:30 and 7 o'clock last evening. Staff-Sergeant Bob Owens and Constable Carmichael, of the Provincial Police, put a damper on the rumor when they learned that the vessels moving off the point were H.M.C.S. Vancouver and H.M.C.S. Thetis carrying out naval manoeuvres.

Cancel Club Licences—Three Oriental clubs in the city of Vancouver have been dissolved by action of the Government, on the advice of the Attorney-General, Hon. R. H. Pooley. The cancellation of the charter to these clubs is done under provision of the act which allows of such a course whenever it is deemed in the public interest to do so. The clubs so disciplined are the Chinese Union Club, Tai Jung Society and Kwong Yow Tai Society.

BELGIAN VISITOR ENJOYS VICTORIA

Mlle. Augusta de Gussemme, of Harrison Hot Springs, daughter of the late Baron de Gussemme, of Belgium, was hostess at a delightful little tea at the Empress Hotel on Monday afternoon, her guests being Miss Carolyn Tolmie, Miss Phyllis Barton, Miss Helga Cody-Johnson, Mrs. Rowland Kingham and Mrs. Otto Weiler. Mlle. de Gussemme, who arrived in Canada first in 1923, came here three weeks ago for a week's visit, but was so charmed with Victoria that she has prolonged her stay three weeks, delighted with the fine weather, the beautiful scenery and the hospitality which she is receiving here.

The Rhyming Optimist

By Aline Michaelis

THE PAINTER
 You climb a steep and creaking stair
 Where smells of grease and smoke
 Lie on the dull and stagnant air
 You climb and cough and choke.

Still up and up until, at last,
 An attic door you face,
 With that grim barrier softly passed
 You gain the sacred place.

So bleak, so bare, it well might seem
 Your quest is all in vain;
 This room, can it house glory's dream,
 Yet scarce keep out the rain?

The painter stands with spattered smock,
 Tossed hair and absent eye;
 But at these the splendours mock
 That on his palette lie.

The splendours that will blossom soon
 In wave and sky and field;
 You climb a steep and creaking stair,
 And genius stands revealed.

Ladies' Conservative Club

A very pleasant evening was spent at a card party given by the joint Ladies' Conservative Clubs of Cowichan Station and Malahat, in the hall Monday night, the room having been tastefully decorated by Mr. and Mrs. George Taggart. Hon. R. H. and Mrs. Pooley were present, as was Mr. R. Wootton, and both gave short addresses, which were followed by some excellent slides shown by Mr. Claude Harrison. These depicted Sooke in the early days, also views of the Ocean Highway now being built on the West Coast, and views taken by the party of exploration of the Forbidden Plateau. Mr. Harrison's descriptions of these pictures were most interesting, and appealed to the audience, particularly his references to the vandalism, official and otherwise, in allowing the scenic beauty of our woods to be destroyed and not preserving some of the timber. Bridge and progressive five hundred followed till after midnight, when an excellent supper was provided by the ladies of the associations, in the capable hands of Mrs. G. A. Cheek, Mrs. Evelyn McConnell, Mrs. A. C. Baldwin, Mrs. W. May and Mrs. W. Mudge. Prize winners were: Bridge, Mrs. Cole and Mr. Watson; consolation, Mrs. H. P. Tooker and Lieutenant-Colonel Cunningham. Five hundred, Mrs. H. MacKinnon and Mr. Edwin Taylor; consolation, Mrs. Eggleston and Mr. Weaving.

CHRISTMAS SEAL DRIVE TO BEGIN

Fight Against Tuberculosis Will Be Stimulated by Generous Use of Stickers

The Kiwanis Club Christmas seal campaign is to start Saturday, and the committee is leading the way. A letter of appeal to nearly 19,000 citizens of Victoria and Saanich. Last year's campaign was most successful, the committee having raised the sum of $3,836.59.

The committee sent out 8,000 appeal letters last year, from which it received the above result. This year the committee is increasing its scope and is mailing between 18,000 and 19,000 letters.

The appeal says: "A year ago we made our first appeal to you to purchase seals for your Christmas parcels and mail, the object being to provide funds to carry on the fight against tuberculosis. The result of our efforts was very gratifying. We again appeal to you this year, confident of your interest and generous support. The money received will be distributed as follows: 75 per cent for tuberculosis work in our city; 15 per cent to the Trans-Pacific Tuberculosis Society; 10 per cent to the Canadian Tuberculosis Society."

"The Kiwanis Club will receive no financial benefit, the work being done by club members. We trust that the Christmas spirit which prevails at this time will prompt you to give our request your sympathy and that you will respond promptly and as generously as your circumstances will permit."

"The seals enclosed are 1 cent each or $1.00 per sheet of 100. Should you feel when sending your remittance that you can spare more than the amount stated we shall be very grateful. Please forward your contribution in the enclosed stamped addressed envelope."

"Further seals can be purchased from the office of the secretary of the Victoria Kiwanis Club, Mr. Walter Walker, 1423 Douglas Street, telephone No. 252."

An absent-minded Bishop was asked in a railway carriage for his ticket. When he had done much searching in his pockets the inspector said: "Oh, never mind, sir, you'll come across it later."

"But I do mind," said the Bishop. "I must find the ticket to know where I am going to."

Two truck drivers were started up in the traffic of a busy street. One of them, losing his temper, cried out: "Why don't you look where you're going, you blankety, blank, pie-eyed dummies!" "You're nice looking, too," replied the other, sweetly.

Hats and Accessories

New Hats Designed to Show More Becoming Lines—Importance of Etceteras Not Overlooked

Many of the newest hats are designed to soften the too-revealing lines of earlier millinery, which suited only flawless complexions and perfect profiles, says an article in The Times. There has been more grumbling at the new fashion than for many years, and hats have received harsh criticism. To meet it, those hats which were meant to show the forehead and were at first called "starred hats," are now moulded to give a more becoming line and have details which improve them without departing from the necessary appearance of newness.

SOFT LINES IN HATS

Some admirable new hats are made of draped velvet. A model in a soft geranium tone is folded back at each side and decorated with small crystal mercury wings. The backs of most hats are long and attention is concentrated on them by details of tucking or unusual folds. Black velvet makes excellent soft hats to be worn with fur coats and afternoon clothes. Softly manipulated into bows that droop or just slightly upward with a comb, they allow for more side hair to appear than last season's hats. Other velvet hats are gathered at the back like the sides of a grumpy's cap and the sides are gathered into a deep, wide band. There are some variations of this idea with folds set below the gathered band, and all give importance to detail at the low neckline.

TOQUE STYLES SEEN

There are attractive caps of ermine and Persian lamb which fit closely around the sides and are softly draped to form a hood on one side. There are also brimmed hats for those who will have nothing to do with hats off the face; they are in a variety of materials, some in black baby lamb with trimmings of black satin, and others in chiffon velvet with pleated movements to one side. A novelty is a Persian lamb hat with a feather following the line of the head closely and with one side longer than the other. There is often a grumpy's cap on the side in hats which reveal the forehead, and this takes away from an unbecoming bareness. Most hats fit into the big collars of new autumn coats, and the smaller hats are easier to wear with the large collars.

FASCINATING ACCESSORIES

There are bags and scarves to match the more practical hats; in some, the bag and scarf are made of the same material, and each has a big metal mount matching each other; a red leather small hat embroidered in gold has a matching bag and scarf. The general look of neatness which is needed in plain clothes. A good many new ornaments find a place in the velvet hats, such as earrings and brooches, often quite

Stubborn Coughs Ended by Recipe, Mixed at Home

Here is the famous old recipe which millions of housewives have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up a stubborn, lingering cough. It takes but a moment to prepare and costs little, but it gives real relief even for those dreaded coughs that follow severe cold epidemics.

From any drugstore, get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 10 oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar or strained honey. Shake you make 10 ounces of better remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times the cost. It never spoils and tastes so good that even children like it.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of distressing coughs, chest colds, and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

VICTORIA

Under the auspices of the Women's Institute, an enjoyable and much appreciated concert was given Tuesday evening to the patients in the B. ward of the Jubilee Hospital. Those who kindly assisted were: Miss Grace Platt, soprano; Dr. W. W. Bryce, violinist; Mr. G. Ingledew, comic recitations; Frank Partridge, tenor; Arthur Partridge, bass; Mrs. G. W. Deaville, who was the accompanist and Frank Partridge was responsible for the arrangement of the program. Refreshments were afterwards served to the patients by the members of the Women's Institute, convened by Mrs. Laird.

Lieutenant-Governor

To Attend Alpine Club

Hon. R. Randolph Bruce has accepted an invitation to be present at the entertainment to be given on Friday evening at the Chamber of Commerce by the Vancouver Island section of the Alpine Club of Canada.

The programme is devised partly for pure diversion, partly with the idea of letting the audience know something about the wonderful hill and mountain regions which lie within easy reach of Victoria lovers of the great outdoors. Mr. C. L. Harrison, outgoing convener of the club, will show the series of lantern-slide pictures of the Forbidden Plateau region which has been explored for the first time in the last two years almost entirely owing to the interest of the Victoria and Comox mountaineering groups. He will also show two sets of motion pictures taken in the two districts, climbing rock faces, attacking screen, snow and ice, and other incidents.

The entertainment features on the programme will include a number of instrumental and vocal selections by Miss Irene Bick, Miss Ellen Dumbell, Mrs. D. B. McConan, Miss Adele Bucklin, Mrs. Aidous, Miss Neva Stewart, and the evening will close with a campfire scene, which will be an absolute reproduction of the first night on the Forbidden Plateau. Among the numbers will be "We've Been Travelling on the Mountains," "The More We Get Together," "Climbing," etc., sung in traditional manner to the beat of an ice axe by the Mrs. McCaw will sing a song, and there will be some camp-fire stories and recitations. Among those who are contributing to this being Captain Everall, Mr. Darcy and Mrs. Haddow.

A man who endeavored to cover up a very large bald head with very small material was nicknamed "Greyhound" because he "made a little hare go a long way."

Powder Means Much to Me

By Edna Wallace Hopper

The average woman considers the actress hopelessly ahead of her in the art of enhancing natural beauty. The reason for this advantage is that the actress makes a business of attracting and she must "know how." It is her bread and butter. In the matter of powder, for instance, my forty-odd years on the stage have made me almost unbelievably exacting. I never considered the cost of my powder, so long as it pleased me.

After years of searching I found in France the powder that now adds the last touch to my careful toilette. It satisfies me because it has the one quality I have found in no other powder. That is, it blends so smoothly with the texture of my skin that my face never looks "made up" when I am offstage.

Because it lends such natural bloom I call it my Youth Powder. In the immense quantities now produced an able to offer it to women at a low price. If your skin requires a clinging powder I advise using my Youth Powder. Flesh, brunette or white. (Advt.)

BELMONT YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETY MET MONDAY

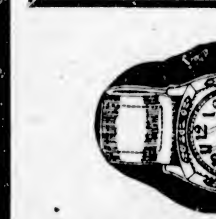

The regular meeting of the Young People's Society of Belmont United Church was held on Monday evening in the schoolroom of the church with twenty-eight members present. Mr. Cook, the president, was in charge of this meeting and opened it with a prayer, followed by a hymn. Clifford Gaetz then read the Bible reading, after which an address was given by Mr. H. W. Davey, a well-known barrister of this city, who gave some very helpful suggestions on "Debates and L-baling." Miss Alice Anderson also gave a very interesting up-to-date report on temperance, after which Miss Clara Hick rendered a solo, and Miss Lillian Perry gave a reading on "Armistice." A couple of games were then indulged in.

Needless Pain!

The man who wouldn't drive his motorcar half a mile when it's out of order, will often drive his brain all day with a head that's throbbing.

Such punishment isn't very good for one's nerves! It's unwise, and it's unnecessary. For a tablet or two of Aspirin will relieve a headache every time. So, remember this accepted antidote for pain, and spare yourself a lot of needless suffering. Read the proven directions and you'll discover many valuable uses for these tablets. For headaches; to check colds. To ease a sore throat and reduce the infection. For relieving neuralgia, neuritic, rheumatic pain.

People used to wonder if Aspirin might be harmful. The doctors answered that question years ago.

It is not. Some folks still wonder if it really does relieve pain. That's settled! For millions of men and women have found it does. To cure the cause of any pain you must consult your doctor; but you may always turn to Aspirin for immediate relief.

Advice for Milady Seeking Beauty Aids

Women are proverbially gregarious and fond of society, and their enjoyment is immeasurably enhanced by a consciousness that they "look right." Now that the social season is in full swing once more, and tired lines about their mouth begin to tell their tale of late nights and little sleep, it is not untimely to remind Milady of some of the little aids to beauty, of easy methods which are available for allaying or removing the blemishes which pleasure imposes on its votaries.

The help of a specialist in these matters is just as imperative as for any other ailment. A visit to the Maison Steadman, 729 Port Street, is one of the easiest means of securing such expert advice, with its spotless cream and green enameled walls, and under the management of Mr. Alfred Powell, who took an extensive course of training in all branches of beauty culture. The place immediately instils confidence because of its air of quiet elegance, efficiency and immaculate cleanliness. Mrs. Powell, well known through her long association with Brenta Lodge, is largely responsible for much of this, for in her capacity as executive in charge of all office details, she receives clients on arrival, makes appointments and gives advice as to the best treatment for hair, skin or scalp before entrusting them to the hands of the expert technicians. Each member of the staff holds a diploma testifying to her fitness to deal with the mysteries of beauty culture. And each has been individually trained for her special aptitude in some branch of the work which is assigned her. In this way the client is always in the hands of a specialist. Mr. Powell himself specializes in artistic permanent hair waving, for which a room has been set aside. Other technicians specialize in facial, scalp treatment, manicuring, shampooing, finger-waving, marceling, etc.

The premises, which are divided off into ten self-contained booths, provide a special compartment for gentlemen, many of whom are included in the clientele, especially for the scalp treatments. Others slip in after office hours for manicure work. The facial booth is fitted with the very latest chairs, so that the patients can relax and get the benefit of rest as well as the treatment. Nothing more effectively removes fatigue and the marks of fatigue than one of these soothing scrubs or a scalp treatment with tonic rub.

The whole atmosphere of the place tends to banish the memory of immediate and vexing things. Persian rugs, Chinese bronzes and pictures and bric-a-brac, and soft lights suggesting the remoteness of the Orient.

Maison Steadman, old clients will recall, was occupied previously for many years by Mme. Stanner, and is the direct and modern descendant of this well-established firm, the present proprietor coming to the business with a completely modern equipment, both in furnishings and technique.

Dance at Chemainus

On Friday evening a whist drive and dance was held in the Gayer schoolhouse, under the auspices of the Saltair Farmer's Institute. A most enjoyable evening was passed, there being eleven tables of whist in play. The prize winners were as follows: Ladies, first prize, Miss Eva Richards; second, Miss Corale Fraser; consolation, Miss Harriet Brown; gentlemen, first, Mr. W. Kenyon; second, Mr. Percy Peers; consolation, Mr. J. Reed. Refreshments were served after the game, following which the floor was cleared and everybody danced, most excellent music being provided by Mr. B. Dumont.

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont

It's no longer necessary to look about for an alibi to manoeuvre the purchase of a new coat-dress. The new detachable collar and capelet shoulder the burden with smart poise. Sketched here is one that makes a perfect case for this new fashion. The model uses navy blue broadcloth to make up its style brief.

The detachable collar is of grey Persian lamb with a swaggar capelet of fabric attached to it. The bodice is buttoned at one side with belted waistline. Further evidence of sartorial judgment is supplied by the circular skirt that is no longer at one side.

Tennis Player Marries

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Miss Eileen Bennett, noted British tennis star, and Edmund Fearnley Whittingstall, son of Rev. O. F. Whittingstall, of Giles, Buckinghamshire, were married at St. Margaret's, Westminster, today. Mr. Whittingstall, who is twenty-eight, is a portrait painter and had a picture in the Academy this year. At the time of their engagement Miss Bennett denied that she planned to give up tennis after her marriage.

Tea Marks Close of Sketch Club Year

The Sketch Club of the Island Arts and Crafts Society closed its season on Monday afternoon at the clubhouse, many of whom are included in the clientele, especially for the scalp treatments. Others slip in after office hours for manicure work. The facial booth is fitted with the very latest chairs, so that the patients can relax and get the benefit of rest as well as the treatment. Nothing more effectively removes fatigue and the marks of fatigue than one of these soothing scrubs or a scalp treatment with tonic rub.

Mr. T. S. Gore, the president of the Arts and Crafts Society, thanked the hostesses on behalf of the Sketch Club for their hospitality towards the members, who spent delightful afternoon sketching in the various lovely gardens. Miss Woodward was the convener of the reception committee and was assisted by Mrs. Loveland, Mrs. Willis, Mrs. Young and Miss Lettice. Mrs. J. S. A. Bastin and Mrs. Easton, Mrs. R. V. C. Bessonet, Mrs. P. F. Curtis, Miss Crease, Mrs. Cotton, Mr. T. S. Gore, Mrs. John Harper, Mrs. J. Newberry Hatch, Miss Lettice (Shawnigan Lake), Mrs. McCurdy (Malahat), Mrs. Curtis Sampson and Mrs. A. J. Woodward.

During the afternoon a musical programme was given in which Major Watts contributed piano solos, and Master Ted Cotton recited "Little Bessie" and "The Torch of Life."

Among those exhibiting sketches were: Thomas Bamford, Miss Lettice, Mrs. Willis, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Pott, Miss King and Mrs. Bailey. A collection of views through the Rockies was shown by Miss Legg, a visiting artist from England, and some beautiful illustrations of children's stories, "Grandfather's Favorites," "Holiday House" and "The Birthday Present" were exhibited by Mrs. Olive Allan Biller.

Weddings

McCOURT-ISHWOOD
At an early hour Monday morning a very pretty but quiet wedding took place in the First United Church, Nanaimo, when Rev. Mr. Anderson united in matrimony Edith May, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Ishwood, of Franklin Street, to Mr. John McCourt, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. McCourt, of Vancouver, former well-known residents of Nanaimo. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father and looked very smart in her wedding ensemble of fawn georgette with radium lace coat and trimmings of radium lace on the skirt caught with a large brilliant fastening in the front. A smart French hat of velvet and felt completed her attire. Her corsage bouquet was of sweetheart roses. Her sister, Mrs. Beatrice Watson, was matron of honor and looked charmingly attired in a dress of pale pink georgette and picture hat to match. She also wore a corsage bouquet of roses and carnations. Mr. Thomas Steele supported the groom. The groom's gift to the matron of honor was a string of crystals. The couple left on their honeymoon to Portland, after which they will take up their residence on Newcastle Townsite. On the return from their honeymoon a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Franklin Street, will be held.

QUADRA P-T-A

A five hundred game will be held in the manual training room, corner of Finlayson and Fifth Streets tomorrow at 8 o'clock, when prizes will be given and refreshments served. The game will be under the auspices of the Quadra P-T-A.

Sale of Work to Aid Children's Ward

The Daughters of Pity, whose good work is to support the children's ward at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, will hold a sale of work and silver tea at the Y.W.C.A. on Saturday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock.

The convener of the sale of work is Miss K. Lovell, assisted by Miss Somerville and Miss Rich. The candy stall will be in charge of Miss M. Stevenson and Miss M. Worthington; the home cooking under Misses Smethurst and Eastick and Mrs. McRae; the baby stall in charge of Misses Tait and Chaw; handkerchiefs, Miss Taylor, Gros; Aldridge and Mrs. MacKay; Miss Neelds will be in charge of the refreshments.

A glimpse of the future will also be given during the afternoon. A cordial invitation is extended to all and we hope that those who are interested in the welfare of the children will help with the work.

Masquerade Ball at Shawnigan Lake

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, Nov. 19.—The directors of the Shawnigan Lake Athletic Association gave their thirteenth annual ball in the hall on November 16. There were about 150 present, the greater number being in costume, which, with the special decorative and lighting effects made a pretty scene. Mr. H. E. Hawkins, who made a capable M.C., arranged for the grand march and unmaking shortly after 11 o'clock. Two members of the Minnie orchestra, which supplied the music for the dancing, were Mr. J. Mackenzie, of Victoria, acted as judges and awarded the prizes as follows: First, for best-dressed lady, Mrs. Guinness, a Spanish lady; first for best-dressed gentleman, Mr. Stevens, of Duncan, as a French drum major; first for the most original costume, Mr. G. Aske, as "Seven Come Eleven"; first for the most humorous character, Mr. Lelner, as a cook.

An excellent supper was provided by Mrs. Winters, assisted by Mrs. Price and Mrs. McLeod. Among many others present in costume were noticed: Miss M. Hawking, rose; Miss Baker, Japanese; Miss Britten, gypsy; Mrs. E. C. Brooke, Turkish lady; Mrs. A. Layton, Northern light; Mr. Stevens, French drum major; Mr. and Mrs. Hall, Chinese couple; Mr. and Mrs. Ganser, Pierrot; Mrs. Aske, Pierrette; Miss Cloely Twist, Turkish lady; Mr. E. C. Brooke, con; and Mr. W. Bell, Arab Sheikh.

Shower at Langford

A kitchen shower in honor of Miss Barbara McTavish, who became the bride of Mr. William Davidson on Saturday evening, was held by the Misses Theima and Christine Brotherton at their Langford home on the Millstream Road last Thursday evening. The gifts were presented in a prettily decorated wagon by little Margaret and Betty Brotherton, dressed as fairies. Music, dancing and games were then enjoyed. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Brotherton, Mr. and Mrs. J. McTavish, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Brain, Mr. and Mrs. J. Abbott, Mrs. A. Waile, Mrs. Fred Pitt, Mrs. Allan Akman, Misses Theima and Christine Brotherton, Marjorie Akman, Betty Goner, Frances Waile, Margaret and Betty Brotherton and Messrs. C. Wilkino, W. Davidson, W. Waile, R. Sate, Tom, George and Robert Brotherton.

Brentwood Personals

Mrs. Kelly and Mr. Phil Kelly have been the recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. Thomson.

Mrs. Watson, of Esquimalt, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. Atkins, Verdier Avenue.

Teacher (taking examination): Archie, that is the fourth time I have seen you peeping over Gerald's shoulder!

Archie: Yes, I know, teacher. Gerald writes so badly that I have to look more than once.

THE WEEPING MUSE

IS Modern Industrialism about to deal the Art of Music the saddest blow of its history? To blame Machinery as an instrument of decadence may seem startling, but it is true that Machinery in the form of Canadian Music is allowing Real Music out of motion picture theatres, thus denying the artist in thousands of instances, the incentive for any individual to improve his talent—so necessary in all art—is minimized and music can no longer hold the cultural value that it has possessed. Any art is dependent for its progress upon the number of its enthusiastic exponents. Do you, Mr. Reader, find the pleasure in Mechanical Music that you do in Real Music? If you believe that Real Music should be saved to the masses who attend Motion Picture Theatres make your opinion known to the manager of your favorite theatre. Very likely he will appreciate your frankness for he wants to please his patrons.

est? Had Rhoda's father been as near success the night he died as he believed he was? That would account for Foster's lying about his job, for his belittling it all he could
There was a paper, then, and Foster knew it and had been trying for nobody knew how long to get it, dangling his bait in the classified columns of the newspapers, meaning when he had found her to play the benevolent grandfatherly friend and steal it from her without ever letting her suspect her loss. But Claire knew about it, too, and Claire had found her first. Claire's scheme for getting the paper had failed, probably through the treachery of her confederate, Max.

But Foster hadn't got it either, or he wouldn't be sitting here now telling her how kind he meant to be to her, urging her to go home and pack her trunks and come and make her home with him.

She looked up at him now and found him staring at her with a look of consternation.
"What's got into you?" he asked.
"What are you thinking about, all of a sudden? What makes you look like that?"

"I was thinking," she said, "that even if I did come here to live I couldn't bring all my trunks. You see, the little hat trunk that had all my father's papers in it was stolen while I was out at lunch today."

(To be continued.)

WHAT HE HAD DONE
One of our younger novelists is engaged as English specialist at a school in an industrial area. The other day, a correspondent informs me, an employer was interviewing a boy who had just left school—
"I can't see," said he, "Mr. X, the writer, is a master at your old school, is he not?"

"Yes, sir," came the ready response, "that's him what learned me English."

As this story is told by the novelist himself, adds my informant, its authenticity is beyond question.

MONTREAL, Nov. 19.—Montreal Maroons showed real championship form tonight when they defeated their arch-intricate rivals, Canadiens, 5-1. The heavy Maroon team outskated, outshot and outmaneuvered their lighter opponents at all stages of the contest. It was the first time since the season of 1927-28 that the Maroons have defeated the red shirts.

The Line-Ups
Canadiens: Goal, Boucher; Defence, Boucher, Burke, Defence, Smith, Lepine, Centre, Phillips, Wasmie, Wing, Trotter, Subs—Canadiens: Leduc, Fraser, Mondou, Laroche, G. Mantha; Maroons: Dutton, Stewart, Siebert, Robinson, Wilcox, Northcott.

Summary
First Period—1, Maroons, H. Smith, 18:34.
Second Period—2, Maroons, Boucher, 4:05; 3, Maroons, Phillips from Trotter, 5:55.

Stocks Go Down So Sharkey Can Buy

By AL DEMARKE

(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

A short time ago I was talking to Jack Sharkey and he was saying that he had set a goal of $1,000,000 in gift edge securities before he quit the ring. Jack has drawn down $200,000 the last year as his bit in the Stripling and Loughran bouts and is well on his way.

Not so long ago, in 1899 as a matter of fact, there was an almost unshared interest in the Jeffries-Sharkey fight because it was billed as the "Hundred Thousand-Dollar Battle."

Only a few years before, fighters and spectators had to slip away to some out-of-the-way clearing or some barge on the river and watch the fight with one eye and look out for the sheriff with the other.

The immortal Bendigo, champion of England in the 1830's, won a series of championship fights whose length and number would shame any modern boxer's record; yet in his later years he sought to support himself by turning preacher. As great a boxer as Bob Fitzsimmons was a pitiful amount of money in the ring and became an evangelist in his later days.

Dempsey Ring Comeback Hinted in Miami Bout

General Manager of New Garden's Stadium in Florida Says Manassa Mauler May Be Tempted Back Into Ring Mix With Sharkey

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 19.—The rumbling of heavyweight championship claims, some of which threaten to become deafening, is likely to settle down to a two-man roar within the next few months when the stage will be set for the inaugural battle at Miami's new Madison Square Garden Stadium. Now just a week or ten days from completion, in fact the claims of all but a scant quartet have so far been virtually hushed in volume as to be virtually lost in the picture which now is dominated by Jack Sharkey, Max Schmeling, Scott, and Jerry (Tuffy) Griffiths in the order of their importance to the industry.

NOW COMES DEMPSEY
But to the general discomfort of the latter three who have been snapping at Sharkey's heels since the Boston gob cooled Philadelphia's

Tommy Loughran in the New York Garden, there is the menacing shadow of the once-rugged Jack Dempsey, called Sharkey's nemesis and about the best gate attraction since the boy in old Rome buckled ten-penny nails on their fists and struggled to a bloody finish.

In a recent visit to Miami, during which he launched the building of the Garden's stadium here, Frank Bruen, vice-president and general manager, dropped the intimation that Jack Dempsey might be tempted back into the ring.

In fact he said "Jack might come back but I'm sure he wants to be certain he can not only win one fight or two, which depending on the outcome of the fight, Manassa Mauler into the figuring on Sharkey's opponent in Miami during the stiff shift and diamond season."

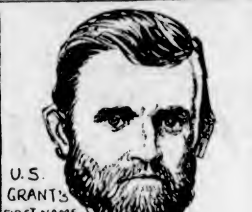

SHARKEY CERTAIN
As for Schmeling, Scott and Griffiths, they hold the distinction of having been mentioned as possible Sharkey opponents along with a couple of hundred other fighters more or less well known wherever fight fans gather. The multiplicity of Schmeling managers, all of whom seem to have different plans for the Betting Burgher of Berlin, have succeeded only in getting him off-balance in forty-six states, which leaves only Florida and one other state in which he can appear legally.

Cochrane Has Way to Keep Hands Safe
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—Mickey Cochrane, catcher extraordinary of the world champion Athletics of Philadelphia, plays as close to the bat as possible when he is receiving the delivery of the moundman. He found out the harder he stands to the bat the less danger he has of being hit by the pitch.

He keeps his bare hands closed until after the ball passes the bat. As a result, if the ball is fouled only the thumb gets it, because it's the only finger showing. He only had his thumb split once.

Cochrane thinks the eyes are the most important part of a ball player; the legs are next important and the hands come third. He does not take any special care of his hands, but the star catcher is careful of his arms, and takes care not to sit around in a wet shirt on the playing field.

Cleveland Wins From London Green Stripes
LONDON, Ont., Nov. 19.—Cleveland Indians defeated the London Green Stripes by the score of 3 to 2, before a crowd of over three thousand spectators in an International Hockey League game which marked the opening of the season locally last night.

ENGLISH CUP FOOTBALL TO OPEN NOV. 30

Minor Clubs Will Battle in Opening Tussles for Famous Trophy Week From Next Saturday

LUTON TO MEET PARK RANGERS

LONDON, Nov. 19.—The English Cup, that great free-for-all of soccer competition, has advanced beyond the qualifying rounds and today the draw for the first round, in which the third division teams come into the struggle, was made. The first and second division clubs do not enter the competition until the third round is reached. The first round will be played on November 30.

The leaders in the two sections of the third division, Plymouth Argyle, in the Southern, and Port Vale in the Northern, have drawn easy clubs to play against. Plymouth meeting the winner of the Dulwich Hamlet or Wealdstone replay from the last qualifying round. Dulwich Hamlet is a fine amateur club, but hardly the equal of Plymouth, which has yet to be beaten in league games this season. Port Vale locks horns with Gainsborough Trinity and should be in little danger. Both the section pace setters play away from home.

The best tie in the series will be the Luton-Queens Park Rangers match at Luton. On form so far this season there is little to choose between the two clubs. Mansfield Town, called giant killers from the way they waded through the preliminary rounds last season they got to the fourth round of the competition proper before being beaten by Arsenal. Arsenal are back again and meet Manchester Central. The third round consists of thirty-four matches, thirteen being between third division teams.

THE DRAW

The matches will be:
York City vs. Tranmere Rovers.
Southport vs. Chesterfield.
Carlisle United vs. Halifax.
Mansfield Town vs. Manchester Central.
Wellington or Bolton vs. Stockport.
Carnarvon vs. Darlington.
Nelson vs. Crewe.
Accrington Stanley vs. Rochdale.
Barrow vs. Grantham or Newark.
Doncaster vs. Scotwood or Shelton.
Scunthorpe vs. Hartlepool United.
South Shields vs. Wrexham.
Rotherham vs. Ashington.
Lincoln vs. Wigan.
Gainsborough Trinity vs. Port Vale.
New Brighton vs. Lancaster or Workington.
Walsall vs. Exeter.
Brighton and Hove vs. Peterboro.
Ilford vs. Watford.
Southend vs. Brentford.
Nunhead vs. Bristol Rovers.
Bournemouth and Boscombe vs. Torquay.
Norwich vs. Coventry.
Fulham vs. Thames or Winchester City.
Tunbridge Wells vs. Bath.
Newport vs. Kettering.
Aldershot vs. Northampton.
Leiston vs. Merthyr.
Wimbledon vs. Northfleet.
Gillingham vs. Margate.
Clapton Orient vs. Dartford or Preston.
Dulwich Hamlet or Wealdstone vs. Plymouth Argyle.
Luton vs. Queens Park Rangers.
Barnet or Bury vs. Dagenham or London Caledonians.
First-named clubs play at home.

BASKETBALL

Games scheduled for tonight in the Victoria and District Basketball League at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium, are as follows:

8:15 p.m., Senior "C"—James Island vs. Navy.

9:15 p.m., Intermediate "A"—High School "B" vs. Victoria College.

VICTORIA DEFEATS MARYLEBONE ELEVEN BY SEVEN WICKETS

MELBOURNE, Aus., Nov. 19.—Victoria today defeated the touring Marylebone Cricket Club team by seven wickets. Victoria piled up a second-innings total of 187 runs with Woodfull essaying the star role. He had compiled 100 runs, not out, when victory was clinched. Rider amassed thirty-five runs before being retired. Hendry, 9, Riggs (not out), while Ponsford was retired without a score. Extras accounted for four runs.

Scores, M.C.C., 238 and 114-352; Victoria, 167 and 187 for three wickets.

Frankie Campbell Stops Harry Dillon

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—Frankie Campbell, San Francisco heavyweight, knocked out Harry Dillon, Canadian, in the first round of their scheduled ten-round bout here tonight. It was Campbell's eighth consecutive knockout victory.

C'S TO WORK OUT

Five C's senior and juvenile soccer teams will work out at Little's Garage, Johnson Street, tonight at 8 o'clock.

Orphaned Victoria Team Takes Second Straight On C

Sound City Crew Skates Through Cubs to 1 Victory—Redpath Nets Lone Mark Islanders on Pass From Lowe

SEATTLE, Nov. 19.—Scoring a goal in each period, Seattle Eskimos won their first game of the 1929-30 season in the Pacific Coast Hockey League here tonight, conquering the Victoria Cubs, 3 to 1. It was the second defeat for Victoria, as the Cubs lost to Vancouver last night.

Playing on their "home ice," the Cubs put up a stubborn battle. They counted their lone score in the second period, when Oliver Redpath took a short pass from Lowe.

They slipped it past Winkler, the Victoria forward, and combination worked the puck past the Seattle defence time and again, only to be stopped by the clever Seattle net tender, who was credited with four-teen shutouts with the Minneapolis club last year.

Bobby Benson opened the scoring after three minutes of play when he sent the rubber into the Victoria net on a lone rush.

Walker tallied the second goal for Seattle when he took a pass from Oliver and drew Goalie Robertson out on a fake shot and then the puck past him.

In a wild scramble in period "Slippery" Dan Dal the flying disc on a rebound sent it back into the net.

It was a chance to get was "home ice" to Victoria as the game had been scheduled to be played in the Canadian as the Victoria Arena burnt two weeks ago the Cubs went to go on the road.

The Lineups
Seattle: Winkler, Goal, Townsend, Defence, Benson, Wing, Sutherland, Centre, Brown, Wing, Anderson, Wing, Walker, Sub, W. Harry, Sub, W. Roinski, Sub, O. Savage, Sub, O. Dal, Sub, O.

Labor Minister Wins Bet Which Goes to Charity

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Nov. 19.—Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Labor in the Dominion Government, is just rich enough not to take a bluff. So, when he made an offer in Fort William, previous to the Ontario elections, of 2 to 1 that Mr. Earl Hutchison, Labor candidate in the riding of Kenora, would be elected, and was taken up, he did not back down. Mr. Hutchison defeated his opponent in Kenora, Mr. J. P. Egan, by 404 votes, and the Hon. Mr. Heenan cast around for some way in which to dispose of his winnings—fifty dollars. Today it was discovered that the fifty will be used as a donation to the Christmas cheer fund here. Mr. Heenan having wired asking that it be so utilized.

At The Playhouses

COLUMBIA "Abie's Irish Rose." It might be a flower of some kind, but to the devotees of the theatre, and this means nearly every citizen in this world, that little means much. "Abie's Irish Rose," showing at the Columbia Theatre for the last time today, has been hailed as the world's most successful play. Five and a half years of continuous performance on Broadway, New York, and record engagements in every city and town.

CAPITOL The respective versatility of Walter Huston and Claudette Colbert are illustrated by their work in two productions: "The Barker," stage success, and "The Lady Lies," Paramount's brilliant all-talking picture. In "The Lady Lies," Miss Colbert is a gorgeous woman of great intellect, and Huston is a polished and successful lawyer who falls in love with her. "The Lady Lies" comes to a close today at the Capitol Theatre.

DOMINION A special stage, larger theatre in size than the average in New York theatres, was constructed at the Paramount studio in Hollywood to present the elaborate revue scenes in the all-talking, all-singing, all-dancing picture, "The Dance of Life," from the popular stage hit "Boulevard," now playing for the last time today at the Dominion Theatre. The pageant of beautiful girls and exotic costumes, in a setting of fantastic splendor, is filmed entirely in natural color by the Technicolor process. It is the first combination of sound, dialogue and color on a single film.

PLAYHOUSE Ian Hunter, who plays the late Sir Charles Wyndham, is now showing at the Playhouse Theatre, which in 1900 at Capetown, he made his stage debut in 1919, later playing opposite to many well-known stars. He played in films commencing in 1924, and has appeared in

Spanish Drama Will Be Presented At Royal Victoria

Manelich is one of the strongest characters in modern drama. In the few short years of his stage life he has won all of Europe. In his native Spain he is a popular hero, and a statue has been erected in a public square in Barcelona. Who is this man who can captivate hot-blooded Spain and polyglot Europe in a decade? A rare opportunity to meet him at his best is offered in the presentation at the Royal the first three days of his week's engagement, commencing Monday, November 25, of "The Lowland Wolf," when the celebrated Martin Harvey will be seen as Manelich for the first time. Sir John has added the English translation of this great Spanish drama to his repertoire for the tour of the Dominion and promises to outlive the previous triumphs he has had here in the world's great offerings. For the last three days of his week's engagement Sir John will portray for the last time in Victoria the well-known Sidney Carton in the ever-popular "The Only Way," the classic adaptation of Charles Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities."

CORNISH TRIO TO APPEAR TONIGHT

Programme of Concert at Shrine Auditorium Under Musical Club Auspices

The Victoria Ladies' Musical Club presents the Cornish Trio tonight at the Shrine Auditorium.

The artists are Peter Merrenblum, violin; Berthe Pancy, piano, and Kolia Levenine, violoncello.

The programme is as follows: "Trio in B Flat" (Schubert); "Pasacaglia," duet for violin and cello (Haendel-Halvorsen); "Trio in F Sharp Minor" (Winkler); "God Save the King."

The wedding party had assembled at the church. After a tedious delay the bride failed to turn up. As the guests were dispersing, one of them remarked:

"Isn't it deplorable?"

"Yes," was the reply, "it is and that she should be missing from the altar when she might have been altering from the miss."

She (after a fight): "Well, the only thing left to do is to divide this house in two, you can have one side and I'll take the other."

He: "That suits me, what side shall I have?"

She: "You can have the outside. I'll take the inside."

The correct bidding of a powerful hand that contains no card of the suit previously bid by partner is at times a problem, particularly if complicated by partner's insistence upon his own suit, because of its high honor count. Take for example the above hand. Played at Spades the probabilities are that West will open a Club, following which South must lose at least one and possibly two tricks before he can enter his hand to lead out the adverse trump, whereas if played at Diamonds, North can make a Grand Slam against any defence. While there is no question but that South should rebid his Spades at least once, any further insistence becomes questionable in Auction and altogether out of the question at Contract as may be seen from the inferences to be drawn from the Contract bidding.

Crown Seeks Review of Decision Affecting Chinese Convicted on Opium Charge

Decision was reserved by Mr. Justice Martin in Appeal Court chambers yesterday on the application by the Crown for leave to enter a cross appeal in the hearing of Rex versus Lee Kim, Henry Chan, Mah Poy and Charlie Sam. The application was made by Mr. E. I. Bird. Chinamen were charged in Vancouver proceedings with possession of opium and sentenced to prison terms on conviction. An appeal from the conviction and sentences was entered to be heard at the January sitting of the court. The Crown now seeks leave to appeal from the proceedings in the appeal court on the ground of insufficient sentences for the offence alleged. Mr. Bird appeared for the appeal and Mr. W. C. Moreby, K.C., appeared for the several defendants.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK MCCOY

PREPARING FOR WINTER

While the heavy red flannels of years ago have almost entirely disappeared, it is true that many people who work indoors all day, where the temperature is always warm, are always over-dressed.

City office workers do not really need heavy clothing. It is well to use warm wraps in going out of doors, but they should be removable on coming to work and, for example, a light woolen sweater is much more healthful than coddling the body with heavy thick underwear, which interferes with the circulation of blood to the skin, elimination from the skin, and the circulation of air.

The home should not be heated too warmly. Sixty-eight degrees or seventy degrees is plenty. A fresh supply of oxygen in the air is just as important in winter as any other time. Open up the windows once or twice a day and get a fresh supply of oxygen.

The children should not be required to wear extra-heavy undergarments. A medium light suit is sufficient, and if they are going out to play they may be bundled up, but it is never wise to over-dress a child. Both children and babies have a bodily heat that is higher than that of adults and they do not have as great a difficulty in keeping warm.

Another great means of preventing colds is to get enough sleep. It is hard for anybody to take cold unless he is first over-fatigued or over-tired. When one is over-fatigued the resistance is lowered and the cold gets a chance. Rest at night is very beneficial in winter.

Walking, skating, coasting and all of the winter sports are fine body builders. If plenty of vigorous exercise is taken in the winter, an excess of starch in the diet may be burned up.

Chapped hands and lips can be avoided if you are careful to dry the skin carefully, better near a fire. After the skin is dry, rub in a little glycerine or some good vegetable oil or cocoa butter.

Those who are troubled with cold hands and feet will find that all that is necessary to stir up the circulation is to exercise vigorously and to live correctly. A daily bath

Identification May Follow From Button on Body

ELLENBURG, Wn., Nov. 19.—The number 307,586, on the Canadian skeleton in the mountains near Caribou Canyon, where the body was found last week, today was believed to be the best clue as to the identity of the man who died in the woods. The number was sent to the Canadian Minister of Militia and Defence at Ottawa for identification.

Another clue which officers were tracing was a report from Jack Johnson, caretaker of a ranch near Caribou Canyon, where the body was found, that in March, 1928, a man stayed all night in his cabin and started out in the morning in fog and over unmarked snow. The man had been lost all the previous day, Johnson reported.

The caretaker said the man was about the size of a ranch hand, and told him he had been around Yakima for ten years, and was going to Wenatchee where he was known.

IT BEATS ALL How These Old Creaky Stiff Joints Limber Right Up With Joint-Ease

Balance your partner—down the centre—Gosh, but don't feel good to have those old joints working as smooth and easy as those of the champion hunter at the Fair. Funny, too; how Joint-Ease soaks right in and in two minutes goes clear through skin and flesh way down to the ligaments and bone. It surely does oil 'em up; takes out all the stiffness, lameness, kinks, creaks, soreness and swelling in next to no time, and makes you feel like a young buck again.

Joint-Ease is for bad, stiff aching joints whether in back, neck, knee, hip, neck, shoulder, elbow, fingers or spine and for that purpose is the fastest selling remedy in Canada. Made right here—a tube for 90 cents at any drug store, and remember when Joint-Ease gets in joint agony gets out—quick!

Next she came to one who said his name was Tom. "Thomas," she corrected.

And, now, little boy," she inquired of a lad in the end row, "what is your name?"

There was a bit of squirming. "Jackass," responded the lad.

"Was the professor absent-minded at his daughter's wedding?"

"More than usual. He thanked his new son-in-law for coming all the way from his provincial home to attend the gathering."

MAY IMPROVE LEWIS PARK

Courtenay Council Discusses Comprehensive Plan for Development of Agricultural Grounds

SHADE TREES FROM VICTORIA COMING

COURTENAY, Nov. 19.—After a short meeting in camera with the city solicitor on Monday evening the City Council, with all members on hand, got down to business which lasted until nearly midnight.

A committee from the Comox Agricultural Association, composed of Messrs. W. Duncan, R. U. Hurford and E. P. Thomas, attended and urged upon the council the advisability and the benefit to be derived from forming a comprehensive plan for the improvement of Lewis Park and the agricultural grounds, and conforming all future work on these areas to such a plan. In the discussion which followed Alderman MacIntyre spoke in favor of the election of appointment of a parks board which would have the sole charge of the park. This would prevent a haphazard and temporary nature of future improvements. It is probable the future work on the parks will be covered by a special by-law.

A letter from the Courtenay-Comox Board of Trade was received thanking the council for its recent grant in aid of publicity. There was also a further letter from Mr. Harry Idens, who wishes to obtain permission to operate a tourist camp in the park.

The chairman of the electric light committee recommended a short extension of the system at Comox, which would carry the service to the property of Mr. T. Stewart and Mr. Cliffe. The recommendation was endorsed.

Progress was reported on other light extensions, and it is expected to have lights burning on the Lazo line within a week. Mr. Bridges tender for the construction of the new Dove Creek pole line was accepted. An increase of $3,379.05 in

Picture of Navigators Presented

COURTENAY, Nov. 19.—An interesting function took place on Monday afternoon when copies of a picture, rich in British Columbia history, was presented by the Canadian Club to both the elementary and the high school. At each school the pupils assembled with their teachers, who were introduced by the respective principals. For the Canadian Club Mr. Ben Hughes explained in an interesting way the picture, which was of Captain Vancouver fraternizing with Captain Galliano on the latter's Spanish ship Butli, off Point Grey in the year 1792. Mr. P. L. Anderson then presented the picture, which was accepted with thanks for the school by Norman Tribe. Trustee Inglis expressed appreciation for the sentiment which had prompted the Canadian Club to this act.

An interesting address was given by Mayor Pearce on the subject of town planning, in which he explained the advantages and the necessity of commencing this very important work before the city grew too large to take full advantage of the idea. A discussion of the advisability of the city taking over the Comox water system lasted until a late hour and was finally left to the committee for a further report.

LOGGING EMPLOYEE IS BADLY INJURED AT CUMBERLAND

CUMBERLAND, Nov. 19.—Clive Banks, well-known here, employed as head loader for the Comox Logging Company at Lake Cumberland, was badly injured while on top of a car loading logs. He slipped from the logs, struck the landing and fell into the water. He was taken to Comox Hospital unconscious.

RECOVERING FROM BURNS

NANAIMO, Nov. 19.—Word from the local hospital last evening is to the effect that Mrs. James Campbell, of Comox, is now making satisfactory progress towards recovery from severe burns sustained recently.

MISS WALDY WINS 'POINT-TO-POINT'

Rides Well-Judged Race in Steeplechase—Miss Norie Wins Novice Event

A point-to-point meet was held on Sunday at Duncan over fields kindly lent by Messrs. Compton-Lundie, Kingston and Plowman. The course was over grass fields with a small strip of plough, and eight timber jumps, and was approximately one and a half miles. Two races were run, a class for the novices being added. Unfortunately the novice class attracted most of the entries, only three facing the starter for the main event, these being Miss Waldy, riding Mr. Annandale's Big Boy, Miss Price on Harry and Miss Tryon riding Miss Hogan's Kidare. Mr. Staples was unable to start Miss Tryon's Starlight as the horse was unfit.

The three horses faced the starter, Mr. Macintosh, at 2:30, getting away to a good start. After the first fence, Miss Waldy went to the front and set a fast pace, closely followed by the others. The jumping was good, the horses galloping fast and taking their jumps in their stride. The jumps were not big, as the course had been laid out with the idea of giving the poorer jumpers a chance to utilize their speed. However, the best jumper won, as he set so hot a pace that the others had not the spirit left to overhaul him at the finish.

Miss Waldy, on Big Ben, cleared the second to last fence, with Miss Price and Miss Tryon three lengths behind the leader. At the last jump this lead had been decreased to one length and two lengths respectively, and in these positions the horses passed the finishing post, neither of the horses being able to lessen the distance between them and the leader.

Miss Waldy rode a well-judged race. Riding a big, powerful horse, who jumps readily, she set a fast pace over heavy ground, so that when the finishing stretch was reached the smaller horses, not being able to keep up, could not produce the speed to pass him. The jumps were decreased in size for the novice class, consisting of Miss Hogan's Kidare, Miss Norie, Miss Price, Miss Tryon, Miss Hogan's Kidare, and Miss Hogan's Kidare.

It was brought out in the British House of Commons this week that so long as a Canadian sardine sold in Canada or in several other parts of the world it could go under the name of sardine, but when it was shipped to Great Britain the name sardine had to be deleted.

The charge of discrimination against Canada, however, which was raised, is thoroughly exploded by a short recital of the facts.

The true sardine is a young pilchard. For years an authentic sardine industry flourished around the coast of Great Britain and France.

Then the Norwegian fishermen, put on the market a small fish of their own. It was not properly a

SARDINE IS NAME DEFINED BY LAW

But Not Same Way in All Countries—May Be Herring, Pilchard or Bristling

By WILFRID EGGLESTON (Copyright, 1929)

OTTAWA, Nov. 16.—When is a sardine not a sardine? The answer is "When it's a young herring trying to enter Great Britain." This may sound a bit complicated, but it was the answer given to the writer when he discussed the ethics of sardines with the Deputy Minister of Fisheries, Wm. A. Found, today.

SARDINE IS NAME DEFINED BY LAW

But Not Same Way in All Countries—May Be Herring, Pilchard or Bristling

By WILFRID EGGLESTON (Copyright, 1929)

OTTAWA, Nov. 16.—When is a sardine not a sardine? The answer is "When it's a young herring trying to enter Great Britain." This may sound a bit complicated, but it was the answer given to the writer when he discussed the ethics of sardines with the Deputy Minister of Fisheries, Wm. A. Found, today.

It was brought out in the British House of Commons this week that so long as a Canadian sardine sold in Canada or in several other parts of the world it could go under the name of sardine, but when it was shipped to Great Britain the name sardine had to be deleted.

The charge of discrimination against Canada, however, which was raised, is thoroughly exploded by a short recital of the facts.

The true sardine is a young pilchard. For years an authentic sardine industry flourished around the coast of Great Britain and France.

Then the Norwegian fishermen, put on the market a small fish of their own. It was not properly a

Suffered Years With Stomach Trouble

Wishes She Could Put Tanlac in Every Home

"If it were in my power, I would place a bottle of Tanlac in every home," writes Mrs. George Bell, of 317 Grey Street, London, Ont. "Tanlac is indispensable in cases of sickness and is the most valuable remedy I know of."

"I had suffered for years with Stomach Trouble. Gas would form and bloat me up so I could hardly catch my breath. My nerves were shattered, I did not sleep; became weak and run-down; and spent enough on medicines to furnish a home."

Two months after starting Tanlac, however, I had gained eleven pounds, and was entirely free of indigestion. Now I have no gas or pains in my stomach. The headaches have disappeared. My nerves are calm. I sleep like a child, am always ready for meals, and my housework seems like play for me."

It is the most natural thing in the world for Mrs. Bell to want to place a bottle of Tanlac in every home. And she is only one of more than 100,000 grateful people who are glad and proud to tell what Tanlac has done for them.

Tanlac is made of roots, herbs and herbs—a true Nature medicine for the sick, and one within the means of every family, because the cost is less than 2c a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Your money back if it doesn't help you. (Adv.)

sardine, although it looked and tasted like one. It was correctly a

The British dealers resented this intrusion of a "substitute just as good" and took it to the courts. The courts ruled that only the young of the pilchard was a sardine, so far as Great Britain was concerned, and that other fish entering Great Britain must be described by their correct name.

This was aimed at Norway, but it ultimately hit Canada.

For Canada has a small fish, too, that looks and tastes like a sardine. It is a young herring that feeds and flourishes off the coast of New Brunswick.

So far as Canada and the United States is concerned, there was no objection to calling our young herring a sardine; Canadian law made the name legal. In the Meat and Canned Foods Act a sardine was described as any youthful specimen of clupeoid fish (which really means of the herring family).

And that's the whole story.

The Wife: Do you like my new dress, dear?

The Husband: Well, I think it might have covered you a bit better if you'd left the price tag on it.

"Why the brown spots on your suit?"

"O, that's rust! My tailor said it would wear like iron."

Stock Market Is Convalescent At N.Y. and Evident Progress Is Made Toward Normal State

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The convalescent stock market made a definite progress along the road to normalcy today. The mild sinking spell which appeared in the last hour of trading last Friday was successfully thrown off early in the day's trading, and the market rallied throughout the remainder of the session.

The fact that the selling was calmly absorbed without bringing on a new fever of liquidation, helped the gradual return of speculative confidence and brought sufficient selling into the market to prompt the cautious shorts to cover. Leading shares closed about 2 to 10 points higher with a few specialties making wider gains.

Call money renewed at 5 per cent and was quoted at that figure all day.

Such shares as American Can, Air Reduction, American Waterworks and General Electric closed 8 to 9 1/2 points higher. U.S. Steel, International Harvester, Atchafalpa, Johnson & Johnson, J. C. Case, A. M. Byers, American and Foreign Iron, National Biscuit and Standard Gas and Electric gained about six points each. Allied Chemical was a soft spot, dropping 11 points, reducing its loss to 3 before the close.

Foreign exchanges were firmer. Sterling cables rallied 1-4 cent to $4.87 9-16 and the Canadian dollar reduced its discount to nearly one-fifth of a cent.

The bond market assumed an appearance normal for a period of dropping 11 points, reducing its loss to 3 before the close. The demand was for domestic corporation loans of high investment character, especially rails.

The Swing Toward Bonds

Reports from the financial centres indicate a stiffening of bond prices as funds are drawn from speculative markets. The best statistical minds advise bond investments at this time. From their figures these same authorities forecast the slump in stocks; and there is no reason to doubt their judgment now in regard to bonds.

RISE IN WHEAT IS MAINTAINED

MARKET AT WINNIPEG EXCEEDINGLY STRONG THROUGH SESSION

Trade Almost All Local—Bullish Argentine News Is the Main Factor

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

WINNIPEG, Nov. 19.—Wheat: The wheat market was exceedingly strong today with prices advancing from 4 1/4 to 5 cents over the previous close with the bulk being well maintained. Trade was practically all local, there being little, if any, export business out of this market, and seaboard houses were doing nothing.

Bullish news from the Argentine was the main factor and all private reports stated that the rust was very bad in the Provinces of Cordoba and Santa Fe, with severe damage already taken. On the other hand, the local crowd and commission houses were buying wheat and expecting little difficulty in forcing prices upward and holding them at around top levels, as offerings were scarce and appeared to be confined to a little profit taking by longs from time to time.

There was very little going on in the local cash market and shippers were backing away from the various grades on account of the strength in the futures.

Buenos Aires was 1-4 to 1-3-4 higher at midday which seems to confirm the rust reports.

Local sentiment is very bullish but the heavy lines are being carried part of which will likely come out on further upturns.

Coarse grains: These markets were all higher in sympathy with wheat advance, and while the trade volume was very small, offerings were extremely light. There was some further business in oats to Eastern Canada, but nothing doing in barley or rye.

Flax: This market was firm and higher, but there was very little of feature going on.

TO ENCOURAGE YOUNG PEOPLE IN FARMING

Distribution of Animals to Boys and Girls Object of Deputation to Premier
Tolmie Today

SCHEME BELIEVED TO BE EFFECTIVE

VANCOUVER, Nov. 19.—Mr. Walter Leek, president, and Mr. John K. Matheson, general manager, will go to Victoria on Friday to confer with Hon. S. P. Tolmie, Premier, and Hon. William Atkinson, Minister of Agriculture, on the scheme proposed by the Exhibition Association for the distribution of 250 beef calves to approved boys and girls in the province. The scheme provides that the Exhibition Association will finance the project.

The young people will feed the calves for one year, and they will then be sold at the Winter fair as baby beef. The profits, after deducting the original cost of the calves, will be turned over to the boys and girls, and they may be thus enabled to secure enough money to buy calves for themselves.

The Exhibition Association, if the scheme proves a success, will increase the number in the years that follow, and gradually a great development in the beef industry is expected to be secured by these means.

CHOIR RECEIVES GREAT OVATION

FIRST UNITED CHURCH CHOIR
PRESENTS CONCERT TO CAPACITY AUDIENCE

Repeated Encores Given to Numbers in Varied Programme by Chorus and Soloists

The Amphion Concert Hall was filled to capacity last evening when the First United Church Choir gave a most enjoyable programme, under the auspices of the Royal Society of St. George. The choir, whose success in Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle musical festivals has been so marked, received a great ovation last evening and reflected credit upon its leader, Mr. W. C. Pye, as well as upon each member.

Mr. W. H. Langley acted as chairman and announced each item of the programme, which opened with the chorus "Awake Aeolian Lyre" (Danby). Other choruses were "Negro Dirge" (arranged by Robertson), a haunting melody sung in fine harmony, ladies' chorus, "Distant Dells" (MacKenzie) and "The Nightingale" (Weeks). "King Arthur" (Robertson) was another outstanding chorus which delighted the audience. The madrigal "Nymphs and Shepherds" (Purcell) was the concluding chorus, one of the numbers selected for the Seattle Festival competition. Mrs. W. B. Crowther caused much amusement with her humorous readings, "The Obdurate Hat in the Pit" and "My Last Gasp."

Mr. J. M. Thomas was one of the favorite soloists, and Miss Beth Simpson and Miss Marjorie Watson sang very charmingly "Ma Curly Headed Baby" and "Nursery Rhymes" as solo. "Maiden Fair" (Haydn) sung by Messrs. Thomas, Jones and Veals, called for an encore, and Mr. F. J. Mitchell gave a solo number, "Reginald's Queen" (Sullivan) who sang by Misses Beth Simpson and Marjorie Watson and Messrs. F. J. Mitchell and W. C. Pye, and a mandolin duet was played by the Misses Dorothy and Gladys Lea. The audience showed its appreciation by calling for encores after each number of the very well arranged and varied programme.

The hall, which offered excellent concert facilities, was attractively decorated in shades of blue, white and orange.

Lord Byng Taken Ill and Fear of Pneumonia Felt

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Suffering from congestion of the lungs, Lord Byng of Vimy did not pass a very good night and there is great fear that he may suffer an attack of pneumonia.

Besides his own doctor, Lord Byng was visited today by Sir Thomas Horder, noted specialist and physician to the Prince of Wales. The present Chief Commissioner of the Metropolitan Police and the former Governor-General of Canada, first caught a chill at the beginning of the month. He unfortunately insisted on going for a shooting trip in the country and it is believed this aggravated his complaint. He has been confined to his bed since November 10.

MINERS BURIED ALIVE

PAINTINGS TELL OF OLD MONTREAL

Picturesque Spots in Romantic City
Are Reproduced in Recent Book Published

"Old Montreal, With Pen and Pencil," by Victor Morin, illustrations by Charles W. Simpson, R.C.A., $1.00. Here is a short and very readable history of Montreal from its founding, nearly three hundred years ago, to date. It is packed with heroic incidents of the early struggle of the colonists and, as they fought and obtained a sure footing, stories of the city's growth and development, churches, palaces, forts, halls of justice, great squares and monuments. When the Indian perils were over—and it is difficult nowadays to imagine that scarcely two centuries ago it was dangerous to wander in that region where today the great financial institutions of Canada have their head offices—following the Indian peril, the colonists were continuously faced by danger of attacks from the American colonists or from the overseas English, until the latter culminated on the Plains of Abraham. The story of the French regime is well and sympathetically told.

REPRODUCTIONS IN COLOR

But perhaps the major interest of this book is the reproduction of some fifteen paintings of picturesque spots in Montreal, from the brush of the well-known Canadian Academician, Charles W. Simpson. The artist has seized the very spirit of the old city and makes it live again in color and form. Each one of these illustrations is a little gem which if taken from the book and framed would form an admirable addition to the walls of living-room or library. They have a wide variety, ranging from old forts to churches, chalets, markets, squares, public buildings and street scenes. Each one has caught the true atmosphere of the old French city, of which, even when comparatively modern, they seem to partake. They fit so miraculously into the scheme of the book and, as one turns the pages, reveal ever new aspects of beauty and interest.

The book was originally in French and the translation preserves the quality of the original while successfully realizing the aim of a competent translator. It is a publication which every Canadian and most certainly every resident of Montreal should read.

School Trustees Meet at Saanich

A special meeting of the Saanich School Board was held at Royal Oak last evening, with Chairman Hobbs presiding. Additions to the schools at Cloverdale, Keating and Tillicum were considered and recommended, and the plans for the two additional four-roomed school buildings which the board deems necessary to meet the growing demands of the district were thoroughly discussed. Mr. H. Savage, the architect, explaining the plans as submitted in detail. As finally approved by the meeting, the plans now await further action by the council, the general impression being that everything will be in order to present to that body by November 30. Among other matters to come up for discussion at this meeting of the Board were letters from several parties in the district offering to sell property for school sites; proposed action in connection with the absence from school of children who, according to law, should be at school; the bill against the Saanich School Board for high school pupils from that district attending the Victoria High School last term, and the ordinary estimates of proposed expenditure for the financial year 1930.

BANK REVIEWS TRADE OUTLOOK

Building Construction Continues at High Level—General Prospect
Is Good

(From the monthly commercial letter of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.)

Business throughout the Dominion has been for the most part good, although there is a general feeling that the level of trade during the Winter will hardly be as high as a year ago. On the whole manufacturing continues active, factories at several centres reporting that they are operating at capacity. Wholesale and retail trade has been good, but the mild weather of the last month has retarded sales of clothing in some districts. Railway loadings in Western Canada are somewhat less than a year ago, but in Eastern Canada they have been uniformly heavy from the beginning of June to the end of October.

The iron and steel industry, which is yearly becoming of greater importance in this country, maintains a fairly steady output at a high level, except in those months which are dependent upon the automobile industry. The temporary halt in the activities of the latter is almost the only unsatisfactory element in the general industrial situation.

The lumber market continues to be dull in spite of the fact that production has been on a restricted scale. The Atlantic Coast market continues weak and the chief export demand is from Australia and Japan. The Winters cut of pulpwood should be heavy, as the demand is active. A considerable number of men thrown out of employment through stagnation in a few centres have already been absorbed by pulpwood operators.

Strong competition from Norway, especially in the Cuban market, has been an unsatisfactory feature of the Atlantic fisheries. Serbian salmon is also competing with the British Columbia pack in Great Britain, but the domestic and Australian markets may be expected to absorb most, if not all of the total pack, which is short in every class but sockeyes, with a marked shortage in pinks and chums.

Construction continues on a high level. MacLean Building Reports Limited, gives the total contracts awarded during October at $57,083,900, or $12,500,000 above the total for October, 1928. Of this over $27,000,000 is accounted for by engineering contracts, including $10,000,000 on account of the vast power development scheme at Beauharnois, which may be expected to swell the total contracts for the next six months. The bank estimates that on the basis of contracts awarded for work as yet uncompleted, the country has in sight construction totaling $250,000,000 in value as against about $210,000,000 at this time last year, an increase of approximately 20 per cent. It is gratifying to note that the value of contracts for industrial buildings, while showing a seasonal recession, is on a much higher level than a year ago and that the number of factories erected in Canada by American companies continues to expand, a tribute to the fundamental soundness of labor and other conditions in this country.

The unusually dry Autumn in Central Canada and the greater part of the West has retarded fall ploughing and diminished the returns from dairy herds. It will require to be offset in a large measure by a good rainfall before the Winter sets in, if soil conditions in the Spring are to be satisfactory.

Bank Manager Is To Be Sentenced On Plea of Guilty

SHERBROOKE, Que., Nov. 19.—C. A. Tucker, former manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Waterville, pleaded guilty in the Criminal Court today of having stolen over $1,200 from the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and of having forged the name of Mr. H. W. Burton, of Waterville, to a note for $588. Tucker will be sentenced at the end of the term by Mr. Justice Archambault.

A Tiresome Cough Was Left By A Severe Cold

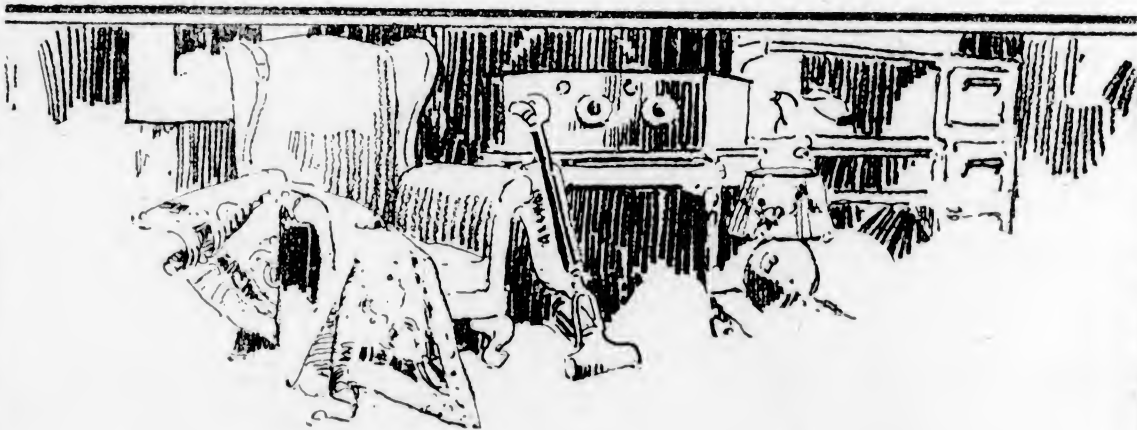

Mrs. Chas. Eldershaw, Morrell, P.E.I., writes: "Some time ago I was seized with a severe cold that left me with a bad, tiresome cough. After trying different cough medicines, to no avail, my husband brought me home a bottle of

MOTORIST CONVICTED
An Assize Court jury has just pronounced a verdict of guilty in the case of a motorist accused of manslaughter for knocking down and mortally injuring a pedestrian. The verdict is an unusual one. We cannot recall a single precedent for it. It has been the practice hitherto to classify knocking down a pedestrian as an unfortunate accident, for which no penalty was exacted, other than the delivery of a completely futile homily. . . . The recent decision may serve as a warning to all imprudent and rash motorists. It should have a salutary effect— La Patrie (Ind.).
